One of the Numerous Endorsements:

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO., AUGUST 8th, 1890.

GENTLEMEN:—I have used your paints on floors of Blasius & Sons' Piano Stores, 1101-1103-1119 Chestnut Street, and find it the best paint for the purpose I ever used. The pianos were rolled over them next morning, eight hours after they were painted, without the least mark, which could not be done with any other paint. Just think of pianos, some weighing 800, 1,000, 1,200 lbs., rolled over floors painted several hours before!

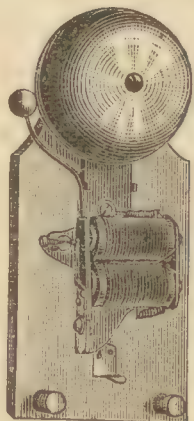

Your paint, when known to practical painters and the public, will take the lead of all others in the market for all work requiring hard surface and durability, and as such I highly recommend it. Yours, Etc., 1527 S. 11th St., Phila. HAMILTON G. FETTUS, Painter,

These Paints (all colors) enters the pores of all material, never blisters, cracks or peels, and are unequalled for durability.

VOL. V.—No. 44. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1890. PRICE 15 CENTS.

REVERSIBLE VENTILATING WINDOW CO., 1430 South Penn Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

DESCRIPTION.

By disconnecting the fastening from the upper sash, and folding back the permanent weather strip, at the side and adjusting the side stops in frame to hold up the sash weights, either sash can be drawn forward into the room for the purpose of cleaning and can then be re-adjusted.

This style of window sash avoids all danger to life or limb from sitting or standing on the sill to clean the outside of the glass.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Householders and Property Owners are cordially invited to inspect the

at the permanent exhibition of the Builders' Exchange, 18 to 24 South Seventh Street, or at the office of the Company, 1430 SOUTH PENN SQUARE.

CLAIMS.

Reversible Ventilating Window.

- 1.—The sash cannot swell and stick fast in the frame.
- 2.—The window can be left open night or day for ventilation, without risk of admitting rain or storm.

3.—The sash can be bowed at any angle.

4.—Window and awning are combined in one, thus avoiding the annoyance and expense of separate awning frames.

5.—It is the most thoroughly burglar-proof window known, having four separate fastenings which must be severally loosened before the sash can be opened.

6.—The sashes can be easily reversed and washed from inside the room.

7.—Window and weather strips are permanently combined, doing away with all rattling and thus rendering the window absolutely water-proof.

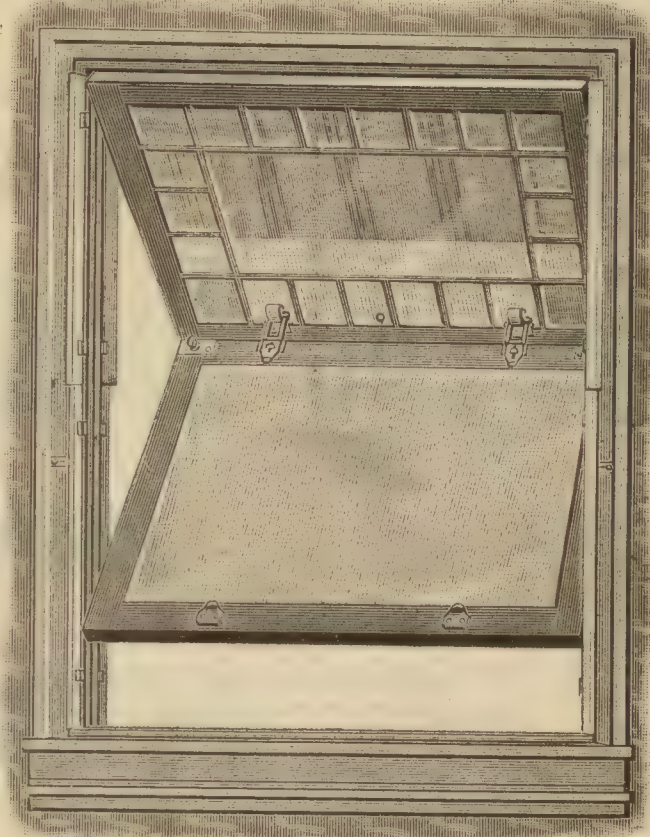

8.—Any window can be remodeled at a small cost to the Reversible Ventilating form.

9.—The cost of the Reversible Ventilating Window is no more than the old fashioned window of same grade of material.

DESCRIPTION.

By disconnecting the fastenings from the lower sash the upper sash is swung outward and held firmly in place by a hook.

This insures perfect ventilation, without risk of admitting rain, storm or direct draught into the room.

DESCRIPTION.

By folding back the permanent weather strips and releasing the bolts at top and lower sash, the sashes can be bowed out at any angle desired, by simply raising the lower sash.

The awning as shown in Plate is buttoned to and cover the upper sash.

This dispenses with cumbersome and expensive awning frames and allows a free circulation of air from above (impossible with the ordinary awning) when the upper sash is lowered from above. The awning can be readily removed for washing.

TERRITORY.

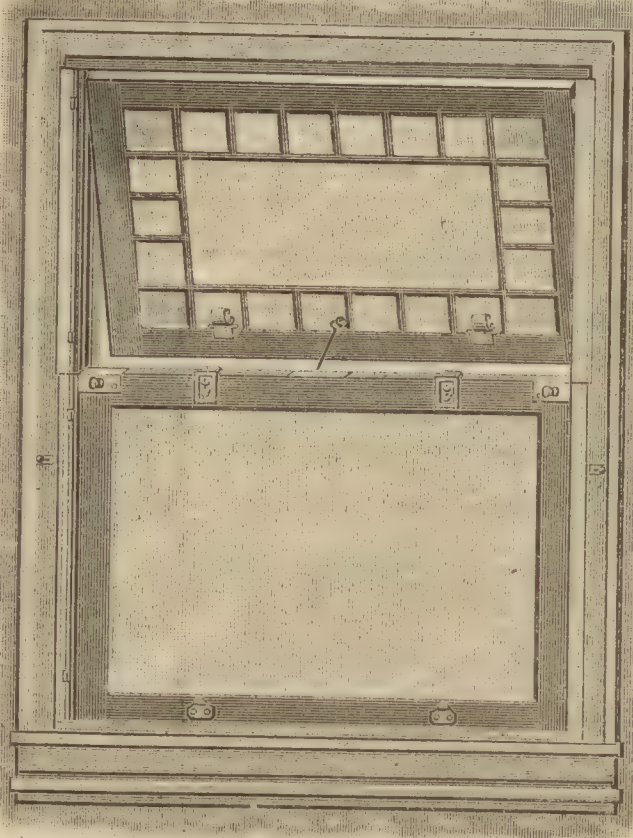

Although the Company has closed many important State deals, much valuable territory can still be obtained. The Company invites correspondence from those desiring to secure State or City rights.

for all places and under all circumstances, a child can manage it and its cost will commend it to every one.

Read the Following Testimonials.

The Monarch has given perfect satisfaction, although being but 32 inches diameter it works admirably drawing and heating, as satisfactorily as can be desired. The raking bar and other adjustments are so near perfect that it can be managed easily by any person young or old. I cheerfully testify to its being one of the best heaters I have ever seen.

JOHN S. DAVIS,
Tin and Iron Smith, 44 N. 39th St. Phila.

The two Monarch Portable Heaters you put in my house last fall have given me entire satisfaction. We have had more heat than we ever had before and no gas escaping in the rooms. We have used considerable less coal with very little attention, I don't think they burn any more coal than two small stoves.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. NOV. 5, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

THE man who invests a considerable amount of money now-a-days, in the construction of either factory or residence of the tinder order, can justly be regarded as one who cares little for risks, and hopes to escape the penalty of his folly, either through the greater folly of badly governed Fire Insurance Companies, or a gambler's luck.

There are many fire-preventive materials in the market, all of which possess some merit, and which if properly used, would stay the tide of destruction, aggregating millions enough yearly to bankrupt a score of our best companies.

Perhaps nothing in the whole catalogue of fire preventives has done so much to lessen the yearly fire loss in this country and Canada, as the Roebling's Standard Fire-Proof Wire Lathing, manufactured by the New Jersey Wire Cloth Company, of Trenton, N. J.

We can personally bear testimony as to its fire-preventive qualities, the result of a very severe practical demonstration which we witnessed at Germantown Junction, where nothing but ordinary lime plaster was used, since which time an invention known as adamant wall plaster, manufactured in this city, by the Keystone Plaster Company, the main Pennsylvania offices of which are at 233 and 235 North Twenty-third street, this city, and at the corner of Greenough street and Gas Alley, Pittsburg, Pa., has been introduced.

The Adamant Plaster in this connection, merits more than a passing notice. Its merits have been so well established as to its fire-resisting qualities, that it is now regarded as a necessity in all cases where safety is the desideratum; hence it follows as a logical sequence, that those who know the most about the question of fire-prevention would naturally demand the necessary changes in the construction of fire-proof wire lathing in order that it might be used with adamant.

The New Jersey Wire Cloth Company, informs us that it is now manufacturing a special lathing for use with the patent plastering compounds such as adamant, and that samples of this material can be seen at the Master Builders' Exchange, Philadelphia, with adamant. Thousands of factories, warehouses and fine residences all over the country, have their safety assured by these materials, and both companies are prepared to furnish testimonials of the highest order, together with descriptive catalogues, to all who are interested in the important question of how to prevent loss by fire. It is truly the fact, that an ounce of prevention is the true secret of safety after all.

An Important Innovation.

Messrs. Davis & Harvey, the real estate auctioneers, 514 Walnut street, announce an important change in their modus operandi of selling real estate at auction. Heretofore it has been the custom of real estate auction firms in offering properties for sale, to exact the cost of advertising from their clients, this of course, deterred many from trying the auction-room for customers, as the expense was considerable and sales uncertain.

Messrs. Davis & Harvey, through a spirit of enterprise and a very just desire to popularize the auction business as a reliable and trustworthy means of bringing together the man who wants to buy and the man who wants to sell real estate, will hereafter, offer at their regular weekly sales at the Philadelphia Exchange, all properties that are regularly listed at their down-town office, thoroughly advertising the same without charge of any kind, whatever, unless the property is sold.

This determination is the result of much consideration on the part of the firm, its strongest advocate having been Mr. H. T. Davis, whose skillful management has placed this firm prominently before the public, as real estate auctioneers. Mr. Davis' scheme is certainly original, and there is no reason why it should not become popular with builders, brokers and owners. As it now costs nothing to offer a property at auction through Davis & Harvey, it is very probable that this firm will be kept busy by those who may desire to try the new method.

Miscellaneous.

At Central Falls, Providence Co., Rhode Island, the School Board has appropriated $24,000 for the erection of a six-room brick school house.

At Harlem, New York City, the congregation of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Nativity will erect a church at Lenox avenue and 136th street. $32,000 has been raised towards the project.

Against which we quote 10,250 new buildings, and 1646 alterations and additions costing, together, $33,745,739 for the whole year of 1889.

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED AND NINETY, notwithstanding the fact that there has been much to delay building construction, has been a phenomenal year.

Our summary and tables have been carefully compiled with the view of presenting such data as would give the best general idea of what has been done, and are probably as correct as it is possible to make them. We are largely indebted to the architects and builders of this city for a vast amount of information as to the values of many prominent structures; the great interest expressed by these gentlemen in our work, and their unselfish efforts to facilitate as much as possible our labors, is extremely gratifying, in fact, without their valuable assistance, together with that of Mr. Wm. J. Gillingham, President of the Board of Building Inspectors, it would have been next to impossible to satisfactorily accomplish our task at all.

We have purposely avoided the "booming tendency," preferring to confine ourselves to absolute facts as to value when possible, and in cases where estimates had to be made, we have chosen the conservative and have placed them rather under, than above the probable actual cost.

Our statement shows that there have been 9290 operations during the season, costing $30,879,310, to which must be added 1747 alterations and additions, worth nothing, of which the cost is placed at $2,620,500.

The strong feature of the season's work, is the prominence of two-story dwelling houses, there having been erected since the first of January this year, 6,677, or 47 more than for the same months of 1889, and 1038 more than were erected during the same ten months of 1888. In fact the results in two story house construction this year, are even better than last, for with 772 added to the above, for November and December, of this year, the returns for the whole year of 1890, will equal 1889, and we are certainly justified in predicting that November and December will equal those same months of last year, which yielded 872.

The palm of glory this year falls upon the 23rd Ward for two story dwelling construction, the figures being 1215, against 1062 for the First Ward, 833 for the 33rd Ward and 679 for the 26th Ward. The results in the First Ward, are largely due to the enterprise of Mr. John J. Cassidy, who has during the present season, erected nearly thirty-three per cent. of the whole number of buildings of any kind, erected in that Ward.

West Philadelphia this year, does somewhat better in two-story house construction, than last year, the figures for the ten months last year showing 1006, against 1049 for this year, an excess of 43. The increase being in the territory which formerly comprised the 24th Ward, part of which, is now the 34th Ward, the two Wards combined, having yielded this year, 695, against 628 for the whole of this territory for the same months last year. The 27th Ward shows a falling off of just 24 two-story houses.

The record for three-story houses this year, shows but a slight falling off from the same months of last year. The figures for 1890, being 1852, against 1884, for the same months of 1889, a decrease of 32, but although a slight decrease this year compared with last, yet there is an excess it will be noticed of 486 three-story houses, over the same months of 1888. The decrease in three-story house construction this year being: in the 15th, (7 short,) 16th, (8 short,) 17th, (18 short,) 18th, (9 short,) 20th, (23 short,) 22d, (25 short,) 25th, (44 short,) 27th, (85 short,) 29th, (207 short.) The noticeable increase being 11 in the First, 16 in the 19th, 59 in the 24th, 68 in the 26th, 119 in the 28th, 68 in the 32nd. Yet it must be remembered, that the results of the 34th Ward this year, of 33, properly belong to the 24th, which would increase its showing this year, to 311, or an excess of 92, over last year, as there was no 34th Ward at this time last year.

Four-story houses this year, show a decrease of 12, although the cost of the 22 erected this year amounts to $300,000, against $204,000, the cost of the 34 erected during the season of last year. The seven four-story houses now being erected by John M. Sharp, at Twenty-second and Chestnut streets, being valued at $210,000, and that of Mrs. Sinnickson, at Nineteenth street and Rittenhouse Square at $40,000.

In large office buildings this year there are none worthy of special mention, the Penn Mutual having been included in our report of last year, and the arrangements for the proposed new Betz building not having been completed.

The industrial branches show a decided increase in building this year over last year, the most noticeable of which is among the foundries and shops, the figures being 99 for 1890, against 65 for 1889, an increase of 34. There has also been 18 more engine and boiler houses erected this year than last, 5 more mills and factories, 7 more dwellings and 6 more bottling-houses. The warehouses show a falling off of one, churches show a falling of seven, while there has been the same number of school houses erected this year as there were last.

Notwithstanding the general impression to the contrary, the sales of real estate for the first ten months of this year compare very favorably with those of last year, and although the falling off is considerable, yet it is not as much as might have been reasonably expected, owing to the many direct and indirect influences which have effected real estate; for it is only fair to assume that the same influences that depress our mercantile and commercial interests must effect real estate even more seriously, if only temporarily. Our figures establish the fact, however, that there is still a good buying interest expressed, and that the period of "disaster and ruin" is still a long way off, nothing being required but a generous financial policy on the part of the administration to overcome any money stringency in business and financial circles, which, we think, is the sole and only cause for the shortage in the sales of real estate for this year.

The number of conveyances recorded from January 1st to October 31st inclusive this year, were 12,760, representing in value $65,202,736.39, while last year for the same months there were 13,355 conveyances recorded, representing in value $66,410,746.62, a falling off of 595 conveyances, and a difference in the value of property recorded of $1,208,010.23, or about 18 per cent. The mortgage incumbrance on the above amounted to $13,906,255.82, or about 21.3 per cent. The ground rent incumbrance on the same of $579,192.44, represents on a six per cent. basis $9,653,207.33.

The auction sales of real estate for the ten months amounts to $3,050,675.33, a falling off from last year of $175,061.49, or about 5.4 per cent. The mortgage incumbrance on the real property sold at auction amounts to $298,287.25, or about 9.7 per cent., while the ground rent incumbrance of $6,134.79 represents a further value of $102,246.50.

It will be observed that we are more specific than usual in our notes as to miscellaneous buildings. This is necessary for the sake of distinguishing these buildings from those of a more specific character which are included in our tables.

In conclusion we can state that our interviews with hundreds of our most prominent architects and builders, emphatically confirm our own opinions as to the outlook for 1891. The architects claim to be well filled with orders for contemplated work, and the operative builders are sanguine of the coming year as a prosperous one. There is much complaint, however, of the want of city improvements, and some very severe criticisms have been expressed against our city fathers for their want of appreciation of the fact that increased building means an annual increase of city revenue, while on the other hand, their own shortcomings impair building activity and entails serious financial loss and embarrassment upon the enterprising builders who justly want the aid and earnest support of every member of our City Councils, as well as that of the Director of Public Works. There is no mistaking the sentiment of the building and real estate interests of this city as to the question of rapid transit. The sentiment in favor of the immediate adoption of some suitable means for the quick transportation of the people is voiced along the whole line with such an emphasis as to leave little room for doubt as to the intent and purpose of the building interests to make it a live question at our next election of city officers.

The ninety-one miscellaneous buildings include one apartment-house, $500,000; five hospital buildings, $300,000; the alterations to the Bingham House, not included among alterations and additions, $125,000; the Times annex, $180,000; two market-houses, one at $60,000 and the other at $300,000; five club houses, $72,000; three abattoirs, $115,000; Drexel Institute, $350,000; County Prison, Pennock Brothers contract, $175,000; W. R. Dougherty's $22,700; Baldwin's shops, $225,000; Deaf and Dumb Asylum, $500,000; Lulu Temp'e, not included in alterations, $10,000; one bank, $25,000; two theatres, $40,000 and $50,000 respectively; twelve chapels, $89,000; fire patrol and police stations, $99,000; two gas houses, $20,000; three slaughter houses, $15,000; one glass works, $10,000; one pottery, $10,000; three railway stations and depot, $47,000; six halls, $34,000; three green-houses, $15,500; one laboratory, $5,000; Ledger annex, $40,000; chapel and parish building, $15,000; Seaman's Home, $10,000; Home for Destitute Children, $75,000; N. The following is a Table of Conveyances by months. The average weekly amount of Conveyances, according to figures, is $1,481,880.37, or $62,559 less, weekly, than last year.

statement of one of the Daily Morning Papers, to the effect that new estimates would be invited to rebuild the portion damaged by the storm on the morning of the 27th inst., the work entire upon the structure, will be done by the original contractor.

In an interview with the firms of the Baldwin Locomotive Works and the Messrs. Disston Sons, we find that the story of their removal of their plants to points near Pittsburgh, or elsewhere, are but the fabrications of the papers printing them, as a further evidence of this fact, we find both great firms enlarging their present plants and they say they have all the advantages they desire.

An important meeting of the lot holders of "Pleasant Hill," a new operation in the Twenty-third Ward, was held on Friday night, October 31st, at which matters of interest to those holding lots and about to build, was discussed and a new impetus will be given to building in that locality, it will be remembered this site is upon what was formerly known as the old "Piercer Farm," near Torresdale.

Materials itemized as entering into the construction of the Hygienic Institute, to be erected at the University of Pennsylvania, by Henry C. Lea, Esq., will be brick, Hummelstown brownstone, North River granite, marble work, cement flooring, tin, galvanized iron work, steam heat piping and the best of sanitary plumbing, etc., Messrs. Collins & Autenreith architects, 410 Walnut street, Philadelphia, will supervise the work, estimates are now being offered.

The representatives of the French syndicate, who are about to locate an immense silk manufactory in this city, have been given the option of the well-known stock farm of Robert Steel, near Germantown, good for three months, before the expiration of which time, it is expected they will close the bargain by a purchase of a large part of the ground, as it is well irrigated by good springs of water, specially adapted to the purposes for which it is intended.

The Board of Building Inspectors have under consideration a resolution to compel George W. Plumly, to erect a main stairway, from second to the fourth floor of his new factory, at Fourth and Branch streets, this is done with a view of giving more ready exit in case of fire and was alleged to be part of the conditions at time of issuing the permit, the final consideration has been postponed until next meeting, to allow builder and owner to be present and make answer.

It will redound to the benefit of the citizens of the Twenty-third Ward, if the sale of the Frankford and Holmesburg R. R., shall be consummated as proposed at the present, it is reported that the P. R. R. will through an agent, buy this branch and then continue it to a point on the Chestnut Hill branch, making it more direct and convenient for those who patronize it in coming to and from the city, property would be enhanced in value lying along the road, by the change. M. Thomas & Sons, auctioneers, will conduct the sale.

P. E. Costello contractor, has commenced the superstructure of the great electric plant, to be located on south side of Robins street, southwest of Delaware avenue, the building will be one-story high, brick, 52x250 feet and will be fitted with the most approved machinery for manufacture of electric light. A 1000 horsepower engine, dynamos of 500 arc and 3000 incandescent light power and other minor improved advantages, the work will be pushed to completion at once. The estimated cost will be $200,000.

The Trustees of the West Chester State Normal school, at their late meeting, appointed a building committee, to consider ways, means and plans for the erection of their annex structure next spring, and which will be known as "Science Hall" they have resolved that the material for walls must be Serpentine stone and structure two-stories high and the finish to be in conformity with the other buildings; the above committee consists of I. Preston Thomas, Capt. R. T. Cornwell, Bently Worth, Evans Rogers and Maj. Levi G. McCaully, all residents of West Chester and vicinity.

One of the largest building operations and one that will be of immense value to the locality, is that of Thomas P. Twibill, at "Columbus Park," in the Twenty-sixth Ward. The owner has established an office on the property, at corner of Chevy Chase Lane and Passyunk avenue, above Sixteenth street and is there represented by agents. He has made contracts to supply the granite curbing for the entire tract and for this purpose, it is said over 10,000 feet of the stone will be required. The streets are now being opened and when they have been graded and the other property developed, the Park will be one of the finest improvements down town. The present plan is to first open Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets and lay car tracks, connecting with Passyunk avenue, then to go on with Snyder, McKean, Ward and Lingo streets. Thus far, all the lots on the Mt. Holly street front above Seventeenth street, have been disposed of and those on the east and west sides of Lingo street, from Snyder avenue to McKean street, a total of 104 lots Mr. Twibill's intention is to introduce a new style of house in this operation. They are to be two and three-stories high, with porches in front and other pretty attractions. He also proposes to reserve a park, to remain nicely sodded, for the benefit of the community.

ROEBLING LATHING ON IRON BEAMS

Patented April 8th, 1890.

A SERIOUS OBSTACLE in the way of using wire lathing with iron beams has been the expensive method of furring. An angle iron bolted to the beams, necessitating the drilling of both beam and angle iron, has been the furring ordinarily used. The labor of putting this in place is considerable and makes the cost of the ceiling very great. By our method the cost of the lathing on the ceiling, ready for the plaster, is but little, if any more than the cost of the angle iron used in the old construction. We dispense with the angle iron and all labor drilling beams, and substitute therefor a rod and offsetting clips.

The rod is made from drawn steel wire having a tensile strength of about 80,000 pounds to the square inch, and has a hook at one or both ends. These hooks are made to engage the flanges of the beams. The offsetting clips are inserted between the beams and the rods, thus insuring a perfect key for the mortar and giving an air space between the bottom of the beams and the mortar.

The wire lathing is made with corrugations through which the rods are run before they are attached to the beams, saving the tedious operation of lacing or tying.

If the beams are covered this construction gives greater protection against fire than is afforded by hollow tile. There will be no cracked or defective ceilings, as the wires are incorporated into the mass of plaster or concrete, which gives a perfect bond in all directions.

Correspondence solicited with architects, insurance underwriters, builders, and others who may be interested in the subject.

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & Co., AUGUST 8th, 1890.
GENTLEMEN:—I have used your paints on floors of Blasius & Sons' Piano Stores, 1101-1103-1119 Chestnut Street, and find it the best paint for the purpose I ever used. The pianos were rolled over them next morning, eight hours after they were painted, without the least mark, which could not be done with any other paint. Just think of pianos, some weighing 800, 1,000, 1,200 lbs., rolled over floors painted several hours before!

Your paint, when known to practical painters and the public, will take the lead of all others in the market for all work requiring hard surface and durability, and as such I highly recommend it. Yours, Etc.,

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood-Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News]

FIVE DOLLARS!

INVESTED in a yearly subscription to this journal, if carefully read, and you are not too lazy to see the man who's going to build, will certainly prove the best investment you ever made in your life. Thousands of dollars in profit have been made by those who caught on to this idea years ago. Your economy that prompted the saving of FIVE DOLLARS per year by refusing to subscribe, has cost you many a cool hundred.—Get aboard now Brothers, while the fruit is ripening and the "lucky fellows" are reaching out far and wide for trade, while you are sorrowing because it don't come your way.

FOR TWENTY YEARS EHRET'S Slag-Stone Composition ROOFING, has stood the severest tests and in no case has it ever failed.

It is Fire Proof, as well as Damp and Moisture proof. It never expands or contracts; it is not affected by Steam, Acids, Gasses, Vapors or other injurious influences, that would render a metal roof perfectly useless in a few weeks. It is air-tight and is not affected by atmospheric influences of any kind; it is durable and reliable in winter and summer, and positively requires no care or attention whatever. It will out-last the BUILDING and for Factories, Chemical Works, Boiler and Engine-houses, Depots, Factories, Mills and Warehouses, it is without an equal. It costs less than tin or slate requires no painting, can be walked on without injury and must not be considered in the same light and prejudice usually bestowed upon what are known as Tar Roofs.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS, for the durability of our Roofing is not only owing to our great care in laying on a roof; but also in the scientific preparation of the Material we use. Circulars and testimonials sent upon application.

Isaac A. Sheppard & Co., 4th STREET, AND MONTGOMERY AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, for their pamphlet "Perfect Cooking" giving full description.

Men who Build HOUSES

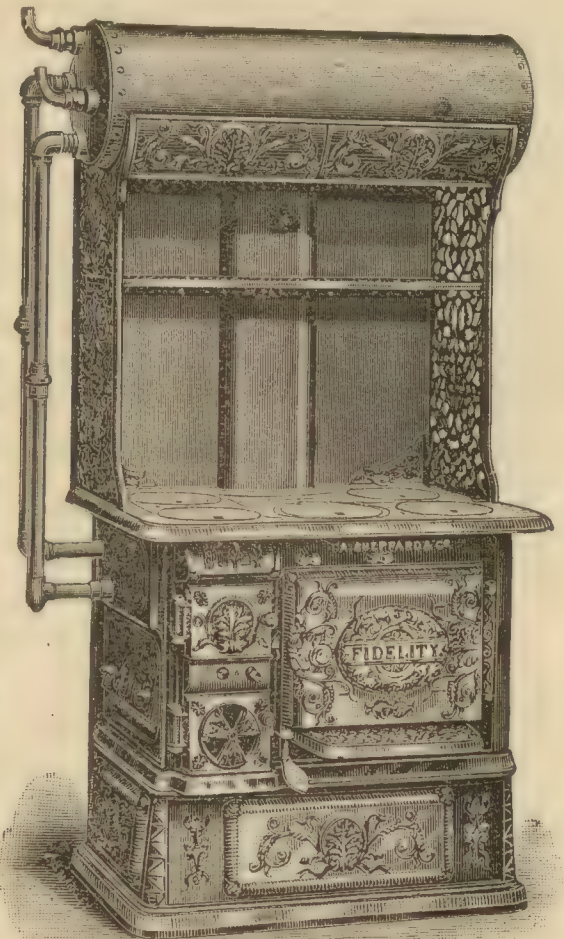

Need To Buy Ranges !

If they themselves occupy them of course the ranges should be good ones. If they intend selling or renting them good ranges in the kitchen will help the Builder or Owner to sell or rent to better advantage. In either case

Does it Pay

to put in cheap ranges of no particular reputation, when a mere trifle in the way of additional expense would provide the

"Excelsior" or the "Fidelity ?"

FIDELITY RANGES.

7 and 8 inches, Right and Left Hand.

Just the thing for small Houses. No brick-work. Plumbing reduced to a trifle, Hot Water in abundance. The latest and the best of their class.

One of the Numerous Endorsements:

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO., AUGUST 8th, 1890. GENTLEMEN:—I have used your paints on floors of Blasius & Sons' Piano Stores, 1101-1103-1119 Chestnut Street, and find it the best paint for the purpose I ever used. The pianos were rolled over them next morning, eight hours after they were painted, without the least mark, which could not be done with any other paint. Just think of Pianos, some weighing 800, 1,000, 1,200 lbs., rolled over floors painted several hours before!

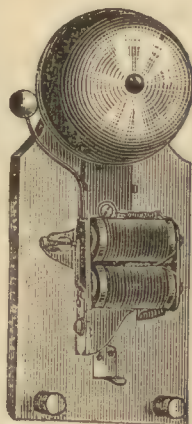

Your paint, when known to practical painters and the public, will take the lead of all others in the market for all work requiring hard surface and durability and as such I highly recommend it. Yours, Etc., 1527 S. 11th St., Phila. HAMILTON G. FETTUS, Painter,

These Paints (all colors) enters the pores of all material, never blisters, cracks or peels, and are unequalled for durability.

A Visit to Washington.

Of all the cities of the country, Washington, D. C., shows the greatest activity in the development of outlying districts, but none of them exhibits quite the steadiness and forwardness of Glen-Echo Heights, Montgomery Co., Md.

Two years ago this property was purchased by Mr. Edw'd Baltzley, Sun Building, Washington, D. C., and its promotion at once begun, and today, though yet in its infancy, Glen-Echo can count its votaries by the hundreds.

About a year ago Edward Baltzley was joined by his brother Edwin, favorably known in Philadelphia as the former president of the Keystone Manufacturing Company, an organization formed for the purpose of putting on the market a number of that gentleman's inventions. When Glen-Echo assumed a position in the category of successful undertakings, Edwin Baltzley severed active connection with the Keystone Company and devoted his energies to Glen-Echo. This tract contains 1,300 acres of hill and upland, diversified by valley and glade, streams and waterfalls. Since its inception for settlement, 3,323,000 feet of ground have been sold, distributed into 400 building lots, among quite as many individual purchasers.

Certain portions are reserved for parks and gardens and other embellishments, notable among which is an extensive castellated hotel, designed by T. P. Chandler, Jr., of Philadelphia, which vividly recalls the ancient feudal habitations which have made the Barons of the Rhine famous throughout the world. The construction of this hotel is set for an early day, and will require at least eighteen months or two years for its completion, and will finally cost between three and four hundred thousand dollars. There is also in contemplation an unique art school upon one of the most elevated points, possessing its own park and surrounded by all the elements that conduce to the cultivation of the æsthetic instinct. Work will be commenced upon it as soon as it is deemed advisable. It will be under the charge of a well-known artist of Philadelphia.

On the night of the 16th of July a rustic cafe of remarkable and peculiar beauty, called the "Patawomeck," from the ancient name of the Potomac river, was formally opened to the public. Among the speakers on that occasion were Senators Stewart and Blackburn, Assistant Attorney General Cheney, Wm. McGeorge, Jr., of Philadelphia, ex-Representative Wilkens, of Ohio, and many others.

The Glen-Echo Electric Railroad will run from the terminus of the Georgetown and Tenallytown Electric Railroad on the District Line across country to the "Patawomeck," and will ultimately push its way as far as the Great Falls of the Potomac. The North American Construction Company, of Pittsburg, an offshoot of the Westinghouse Company, was awarded the contract for this road, and stipulated that the contract would be fulfilled in ninety days from its date.

A new steam railroad is projected along the bed of the old Chesapeake and Ohio canal. The Washington & Cumberland Railroad Company was organized in the early part of August. It had obtained an option on the canal bed in case the courts before which the case was awaiting adjudication, should decide that the State of Maryland had the right to sell the Canal Company's franchises. Judge Alvery, who has had the matter in hand, has rendered a decision that the State of Maryland has a right to sell this property, and that the bond holders of '48 have no rights in the premises. Judge Cox has yet to pass his opinion, but as he has long been in favor of a railroad along this line, his determination of the question will doubtless put a period to legal controversy. All the stock of the company at a par valuation of $2,000,000, has been sold, and it is safe to say that active operations will be commenced before the close of the year. Much of the advantage of this new line will fall to the lot of Glen-Echo Heights, as the old Canal Company's franchise lie along the Southern bounds of Glen-Echo, so that a fair portion of the incoming and outgoing traffic of the Washington & Cumberland road will pay tribute in one way or another to this very fortunate suburb. Four railroads will now impinge upon Glen-Echo, the Rock Creek Electric, the Georgetown and Tenallytown Electric, the Glen-Echo Electric, and the Washington & Cumberland Steam Railroads, thus securing to it those agents of commercial and social advantages which have made the Western deserts bloom as a rose.

Building operations are about to be pushed on an extensive scale, and during the coming Spring forty or fifty dwellings will be started. Mr. Edward Baltzley has at present in course of erection a splendid mansion to cost upwards of $20,000. It will be built of granite and crown a high bluff, commanding a grand view of the surrounding country shut off in the distance by the intervention of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Mr. T. P. Chandler, of Philadelphia, is the architect. It will be thoroughly appointed, heated by steam, possess a fine billiard hall, conservatory, studio, etc. Contiguous to Mr. Baltzley's house, Mr. R. A. Charlas is having built a magnificent home of gray granite, it is of the Colonial type. Fred. W. Pyle, of Philadelphia, is the architect. Professor S. Gilbert Thompson and Victor Mindeleff, of the U. S. Geological Survey, and William T. DeWitt, of the U. S. Electric Lighting Company, have had plans made for dwellings to be commenced at once. Their aggregate cost will exceed $40,000. Prof. Mindeleff's castle is perched upon the crest of a perpendicular cliff. The plans call for a tower 60 feet high, rising as a continuation of the rugged rock-face, the outlook on its summit being 300 feet above the Conduit road below, affording an unsurpassable view of the Virginia hills to the South and the Potomac to the Southeast. Mr. Edgar Allan, of Richmond, Virginia, one of the most successful practitioners before the Virginia bar, is ready to proceed with the erection of two houses at a total outlay of not less than $25,000.

The deeds to a large proportion of the lots sold in Glen-Echo contain a building clause to the effect that the purchaser shall within a specified time erect a brick or stone dwelling to cost not less than $3,000. The time-limit for many of them expires in the early part of the coming year, and a number of the subscribers to this condition have signified their readiness to proceed forthwith to its fulfillment.

Besides other buildings, an artistic powerhouse is under way. This structure will be one of the finest of the kind in the country, being built of a beautiful granite found upon the Glen-Echo tract, and will cost nearly $25,000. Mr. Elwood Hallowell, 923 N. Thirteenth street, Philadelphia, is the architect and superintendent.

Banks of sand and quarries of various excellent building stones are found in abundance within the precincts of Glen-Echo Heights. They are operated by the Messrs. Baltzley, or by stock companies, and the output is supplied at such a price as to render the total cost of a house unusually low.

For an enterprise which has hardly shaken off its metaphorical swaddling-clothes, Glen-Echo has made stupendous strides towards permanent success, the character of the persons who have become owners within its boundaries, and the building restrictions imposed for the purpose of excluding as far as possible from certain sections the merely speculative element contributing largely to this condition, and by the same means a class has been secured who will take the interest of present or prospective residents in its welfare, and assist in the development of its resources until it becomes in fact as it is in fancy, a newer Bingen on a newer Rhine.

Miscellaneous.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., Rev. Thomas Taaffe, Willoughby avenue and Graham street, will erect a school house from plans prepared by T. F. Houghton, 340 Fulton street. It will be of brick, 137x66 feet, stone trimmings, galvanized iron cornice, iron stairs, steam heat, stone sidewalks. The estimated cost is $60,000.

At Cincinnati, Ohio, extensive alterations will be made to Christ Church, on Fourth street, between Sycamore street and Broadway, from plans prepared by Wm. M. Aiken, 90 Johnston building. There will be new chancel, seats, heavy oak carved screen, stained glass and rose windows, and a new organ.

At Detroit, Mich., A. B. Cram, 80 Griswold street, has made plans for four residences for Mrs. Barbara Kline, to cost about $20,000, with stone trimmings, plate and stained glass windows, wood mantels, and fine interior finish, best of sanitary plumbing, open grates, tiles, etc.

At Morristown, Hamblen Co., Tenn., the M. E. Church will erect a college building, at a cost of $25,000. There will be two structures, a dormitory and school building. The material will be brick, and all modern improvements will be introduced. The plans have been drawn by Crapsey & Brown, 46 Wiggin's Block, Cincinnati, Ohio.

At Islip, Suffolk Co., Long Island, N. Y., the congregation of St. Mark's Episcopal Church will erect a handsome parish building. Rev. Henry R. Freeman is the rector, and W. K. Vanderbilt, R. F. Cutting, H. H. Hollister and J. W. Vail the building committee. The plans are now being considered, and work will begin as soon as possible.

The American Christian Convention lately assembled at Indianapolis, Ind., passed a resolution to sell the property of the association at Dayton, Tippecanoe Co., Ind., and raise additional funds for the founding of a university at some other point. The 2d of January, 1891 will be set apart for a special effort to raise the money. Dr. D. A. Long was elected president of the association.

At Terre Haute, Indiana, at the last session of the Indiana Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Addison Hadley and wife, prominent Quakers of Hendricks County, submitted a proposition to the Society that they would deed 110 acres of land to the Society if $5,000 were raised to erect suitable building for an industrial home and school for needy girls. $6,000 has already been raised.

—At Bethlehem, Northampton Co., Council has passed to second reading an ordinance giving the right of way to a local electric street railway company. The company is to construct the road inside of one year.

—At Thurlow, Delaware Co., Secretary Hewes, of the Board of Education, has completed negotiations for the purchase of a lot at Seventh and Thurlow streets as a site for a new school house to be erected next summer.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., a large hotel will be erected on Market street by Mrs. Sarah Savage. Plans and specifications will be prepared in a short time. The new structure will contain elevators and all modern improvements. The estimated cost is $25,000.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware Co., Michael Gibbon has given the contract to William Saunders for the erection of two double brick dwellings. Contractor Edgar T. Bishop has been awarded the contract for the erection of two handsome dwellings at Lansdowne Park.

—At Chambersburg, Franklin Co., the Chambersburg Land and Improvement Company has sold over thirty lots. It is said it is the intention of many of the purchasers to erect handsome dwellings at an early day. For names of purchasers see "Lot Buyers," in this issue.

—At Paoli, Chester Co., Robert Foulke has sold a piece of ground to Levi Cutler, of Valley Store, on which a handsome store and dwelling will be erected. A hall will be over the store, also lodge room for I. O. O. F. A large elevator will be put in and the building will be heated by steam.

—At Easton, Northampton Co., extensive alterations will be made to the Third Ward engine-house. George W. Transue, Chairman Department of Public Property, can give information. Thomas Steele has purchased two lots on Burke street and will erect a double dwelling in the spring.

—At Shippensburg, Cumberland Co., the Electric Light Company of Shippensburg has contracted with the Edison Company for a 700 incandescent light dynamo, and will put in a 75-horse power engine and a 100-horse power boiler. The plant will be located near the C. V. R. R., and is expected to be in operation in 60 days.

—At Paul Brook, (not a P. O. town) near Jenkintown, Montgomery Co., land has been secured for the "Adam Seybert Institution for Poor Boys," which will be erected in accordance with the will left by Mr. Seybert. The amount left for this purpose is about $1,500,000. No definite plans have been made. Dr. Pepper and William Platt Pepper, of Philadelphia, are executors of the will.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., the firm of C. F. Molly & Company, which purchased some time since the Hartranft farm, contemplate the erection in the Spring of a hotel and a number of dwellings on the tract. This improvement depends more or less on the Citizens' Passenger Railway becoming an electric road, in which case the operation will be commenced.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., G. L. Walter will erect an addition to his residence to cost about $7,500. Conrad Schroeder has the contract to erect an oil storage warehouse for the Maloney Oil Company. Messrs Muldon & Moran has the contract to erect a store and office building for Messrs. Roche & Fadden, cost $8,000. H. A. Kingsbury will erect a residence to cost $10,000. Conrad Schroeder has the contract.

—At York, York Co., at a special meeting of the School Board, held recently, it was decided to erect a ten-room school house, in the Second Ward, from plans prepared by B. F. Willis, of York. The material will be gray native limestone, and all modern improvements will be introduced. J. Frank Gable is President of the School Board. Mr. Willis has been instructed to prepare drawings according to the plans submitted to the Board, and to submit the same at the next meeting of the Board. The congregation of Saint Mark's Lutheran Church, East York, has decided to erect a new edifice. The present building is in a very unsuitable locality and a new site will doubtless be chosen. Several are now under consideration.

—At Pittsburg, Frank Cartwright, will erect two handsome residences, at a cost of $16,000, from plans prepared by J. W. Offerman, Fifth avenue and Market street. They will be brick and frame, and will contain all modern conveniences. Wilson & Jones, are the contractors. The same architect has prepared the plans for a riding school building, to be called the Stanley Riding School and Club Stables. It will be of frame, have a riding ring and accommodations for 60 horses, also ladies' and gentlemen's toilet rooms, dressing-rooms, etc. The estimated cost is $10,000; also, plans for a brick dwelling to be erected on Fulton street, by Mr. J. Flinn, the cost will be $5,000. Philip Rau, will erect a two-story brick dwelling to cost $5,400. E. E. A. Buch, will erect a four-story brick business building, to cost $10,000. S. Jarvis, Adams & Co., will erect a three-story iron-clad warehouse and storehouse, to cost $4,500. John O'Neil, will erect a five-story addition to store and dwelling, at a cost of $5,000.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

BANK CHECKS.—When a check offered in evidence was manifestly blurred and disfigured at the place where the amount of the check was written, and it was apparent that the face of the paper had been scratched or scraped at that point, but it did not appear either to the naked eye or from an examination under the microscope that the amount had been written over any other amount previously written, but it being contended that the check had been altered from $422 to $1,422, and it further appeared on inspection of the check that there was ample room to write the amount thereof, the general appearance of the check was held to be that of an altered paper, and the burden of proof was held to be on the proponent to explain the alteration before the same could be received in evidence, and this, notwithstanding the fact that when the check was offered in evidence all the parties to the check were dead.—Naglis estate, March 13th, 1890.

AGREEMENT TO SELL LANDS.—The action of ejectment is an appropriate remedy by a vendor against a vendee, or his assignee, to enforce payment of the purchase money due on an executory agreement for the sale of land. It will be where there is default in payment of the interest or an instalment of the principal. The vendor need not wait until the last instalment of the principal falls due before he brings his action, but may proceed on the first default.—Brown vs Davitt, October, 1889.

MECHANICS' LIENS.—A stipulation in a contract between an owner and a builder that no mechanics' liens shall be filed, is obligatory upon all sub contractors, and deprives them of a right to file a lien against the building.—Schroeder vs Galland, February 26, 1890.

A sub contractor has no right of lien if the principal contractor stipulates with the owner that no liens shall be filed; the former is bound by the terms of the contract between the owner and the builder. Where one writes his name in the blank left at the head of a bond for the names of the obligors, it is a good execution as to him; he need not sign at the foot of the bond. The fact that subsequent alterations in the plan of the building were made by the owner and builder, is of no consequence as to the question of the right of plaintiff to file a lien.—Benedict vs Hood, April 4, 1890.

EXEMPTION.—The Act of April 14, 1851, allows the widow or children of a decedent to retain either real or personal property of his estate to the value of $300, and confess upon them the right to elect in what property they will retain it, with the single restriction that a selection of real estate shall not affect or impair any lien for the purchase money of it. An ordinary judgment lien is no obstruction to the exercise of this right, and the holder of such a lien has no better standing to contest it than the general creditors.—Grave's estate, March 3, 1890.

LIFE INSURANCE.—In a feigned issue to determine the right to receive insurance money between the widow of the assured and an assignee of the policy, where it appears by the terms of the policy that the money was payable upon the death of the assured "to his wife, and should she not then be living, to her children," and that the policy was assigned as collateral security for his note by the assured and his wife and children to A. B., who assigned it to the plaintiff, the first assignee being dead, the widow of the assured is incompetent under the act of May 23, 1887, to prove any matter occurring before the death of her assignee. Counsel fees are allowable in this State only when expressly stipulated for.—DeCoursey vs Johnston, April 2, 1890.

LIMITED PARTNERSHIP.—A patent right is such "property" as may be contributed to the capital of a limited partnership association within the meaning of the act of May 1st, 1876. Where several patents which were valuable only in combination are contributed as property to the capital of a limited partnership association, and a gross valuation is put upon the same, it is not such a lumping valuation as will make the members of the association liable as general partners. All property contributed to the capital must be appraised "at a valuation to be approved by all the members subscribing to the capital." If the estimate is made honestly and in good faith it must be accepted, although the property afterwards prove worthless.—Rehuss vs Moore, April 3, 1890.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—A Sheriff's deed may be shown by parol evidence not to be absolute in its character, but to have been merely a means employed by parties to secure payment of money loaned. The strong presumption always is that such a deed amounts to an absolute conveyance of the interest of the defendant in the execution to the Sheriff's grantee, but the deed may be shown by clear, precise and indubitable testimony to be in fact, a mortgage merely. A purchaser of property at Sheriff's sale is not bound to go behind the record in order to ascertain the exact condition of existing liens against the property prior to that upon which the execution issued under which he claims title.—Gould vs Saunders, March 24, 1890.

One of the Numerous Endorsements:

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO., AUGUST 8th, 1890.
GENTLEMEN:—I have used your paints on floors of Blasius & Sons' Piano Stores, 1101-1103-1119 Chestnut Street, and find it the best paint for the purpose I ever used. The pianos were rolled over them next morning, eight hours after they were painted, without the least mark, which could not be done with any other paint. Just think of Pianos, some weighing 800, 1,000, 1,200 lbs., rolled over floors painted several hours before!
Your paint, when known to practical painters and the public, will take the lead of all others in the market for all work requiring hard surface and durability and as such I highly recommend it. Yours, Etc.,

yon, Diaz, Pinchart, Daubigny, Munckae, y, Rocci, Rosa Bonheur, DeNenville, and many others

These names are sufficient, in themselves, to indicate the character of the paintings that will

A Renaissance of the Centennial.

It will be remembered that during the Centennial Exhibition, the Main Building was the centre of attraction for the many millions of persons, whose eyes feasted upon the greatest exhibition of rare things, grand and curious, novel and beautiful, ornamental and useful, that had ever been brought together in this country.
The pleased and surprised looks of these visitors as one beauty after another was revealed to their gaze, were noticeable to every keen observer, and there are thousands of these self-same Centennial visitors, whose eyes are even now hungering for the same feast for mind and eyes, while there are thousands of others who have dwelt in raptures over the beautiful word pictures of Centennial times, as given by their friends, but who were denied the opportunity to see for themselves.

The announcement that Messrs. Ellis & Shaw, the auctioneers, 1010 Chestnut street, have a miniature Main Building exhibit, now under way in the second story of their premises, will be hailed with pleasure by the public, as affording an opportunity to witness just such another (smaller, of course,) collection of beautiful things as enthralled them during the Centennial Exhibition.

To enumerate the many rare beauties embraced in this exhibit of Ellis & Shaw's, would be impossible; to do full credit to that genius for arranging such a grand exhibition as to give full and proper distinction to each article of merit, can be done better by inviting the visitor's particular attention to the results as produced by Mr. Wm. H. Smith, who very creditably assumes full charge of such important duties for the firm. Here are old and quaint pieces of china, furniture, and bric-a-brac, paintings of the old masters, wonderfully exquisite embroideries, suggestive of the reign of the old-time queens and kings, carved ivories that have withstood the ravages of centuries, in short, it would seem that there is nothing wanting to fill the bill for a grand Holiday feast for buyers of Christmas presents, and all to be sold singly to the highest bidder, afternoon and evening, on December 1st, 2d, 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th, proximo.

EHRET'S SLAG ROOFING

has been applied in this City and vicinity for upwards of twenty years, it has stood the severest tests as to its fire-proof, acid-proof, steam or vapor-proof qualities, it is the best Roof in existence to day for manufactory Buildings, in fact for any flat, or nearly flat surfaces. It is cheaper and more durable than Tin or Slate.

We are the original Patentees of this Roof. Beware of imitations.

Men who Build HOUSES

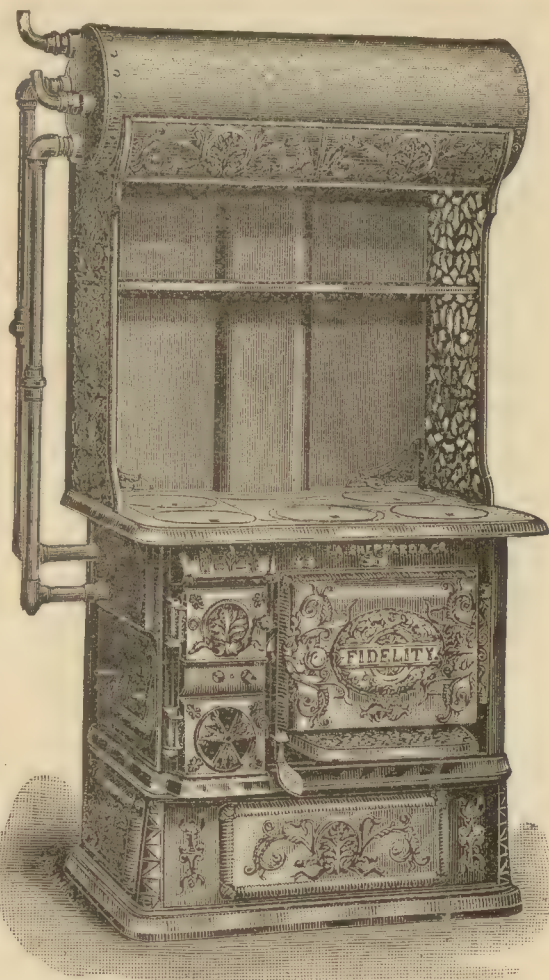

Need To Buy Ranges!

If they themselves occupy them of course the ranges should be good ones. If they intend selling or renting them good ranges in the kitchen will help the Builder or Owner to sell or rent to better advantage. In either case

Does it Pay

to put in cheap ranges of no particular reputation, when a mere trifle in the way of additional expense would provide the

"Excelsior" or the "Fidelity?"

FIDELITY RANGES.

Forced Sale of Elegant Furniture.

HAVING received notice to vacate our three floors at 925 Market Street by January 1st next, and in order to avoid the injury and depreciation removal and storage would cause about forty thousand dollars worth of beautiful furniture, we prefer to sacrifice our entire stock AT LESS THAN COST.

NOW READY.

OUR NEW BOOK.

On W. D. ROBERTS, Sr.'s.

QUICK DRYING, HARD PAINTS.

Will be Mailed upon Application.

One of the Numerous Endorsements:

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO., AUGUST 8th, 1890.
GENTLEMEN:—I have used your paints on floors of Blasius & Sons' Piano Stores, 1101-1103-1119 Chestnut Street, and find it the best paint for the purpose I ever used. The pianos were rolled over them next morning, eight hours after they were painted, without the least mark, which could not be done with any other paint. Just think of Pianos, some weighing 800, 1,000, 1,200 lbs., rolled over floors painted several hours before!

Your paint, when known to practical painters and the public, will take the lead of all others in the market for all work requiring hard surface and durability and as such I highly recommend it. Yours, Etc.,

These Paints (all colors) enters the pores of all material, never blisters, cracks or peels, and are unequalled for durability.

The "Willer" Sliding Blinds.

In no department of the much-vaunted progress for which the Nineteenth Century is so justly remarkable, has greater skill and more persistent ingenuity been shown, than in the various "fitments" which in these days form such material factors in the comfort and convenience of the home. A most interesting case in point is furnished by a new Catalogue (No. 9) which has just been issued by The Willer Manufacturing Company, of Milwaukee, Wis.

The Book is most carefully and elaborately got up, contains about 132 pages, and is profusely illustrated. It is principally devoted to the Vertical Sliding Blind, of which this firm make a special line, though they also manufacture every other form of Sliding and Folding Blinds and Screens as now used.

The feature of the Vertical Blind is that it works like an ordinary sash, by sliding up and down in grooved guide-ways fixed for the purpose in the sides of the window space. The Blind is divided into sections, each of which works independently of the other, and any section can be, when necessary, removed from the window or re-adjusted without interfering with the sash or other sections.

For convenience the Blinds are arranged in classes, each comprising some feature wherein ing windows; and in each case the sections slide wholly within the window space, allowing from one-half to three-fourths of the window being closed when desired. Where it is practicable, however, it is usual to arrange for a space above or below the window, into which the sections can be slid, so as to leave the window wholly clear, and classes "A," "B," "C," "H," "J," "O," "Q," "R," "S," and "T," each show difference of arrangement of pocket space, while classes "I," "K," "L," "M," "N," and "P," all show some different, but always ingenious, means of attaining a similar result where circumstances preclude the use of pockets.

The Blinds are made in every known wood, and are furnished in two grades. A higher quality for Mansions, Public Buildings, etc.; and a second quality for those who require a cheaper article, suited to houses of minor importance. In substance and general appearance there is little to choose, the essential difference being that the latter is not finished with such extreme care.

The Catalogue also contains explanatory illustrations of the "Rolling" Slat, and the new method of operating them which this firm have patented. It is very simple and easy, and obviates any necessity for the rod in front, which is, to so many, so highly objectionable.

A charge of 50 cents is made for the Catalogue, (the latter part of which contains a series of original designs for Fine Stair Work), but a smaller Catalogue (No. 10) is intended for gratuitous distribution and will be supplied to any who desire it.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

We are in receipt of a valuable Real Estate and Investment Brokers' Directory, from the Chicago Real Estate Board. This work not only gives authentic and accurate statistics of Chicago, with many handsome illustrations of noted buildings, but embraces valuable statistics and information relating to Minneapolis, St. Louis, Duluth, West Duluth, Superior, West Superior, Milwaukee, Sioux City, Omaha, Denver, St. Paul, Kansas City, and St. Joseph. From the above some idea can be formed of the scope and value of the work, which, however, must be seen and read to be fully appreciated.

Information for Those Seeking a Place to Locate, Industrial Establishments, or to Make Paying Investments.

Newport is located in New Castle County Delaware, two miles from Wilmington, 30 from Philadelphia, 65 from Baltimore, on the tide-water of the Christiana River.

The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad, the direct through route between New York and Washington, passes through the town and has good freight and depot facilities. Several industrial enterprises are already located there, among them an extensive rolling mill, and an industrial increase is assured by a recent Act of the Delaware Legislature, which exempts from all taxation for the period of 10 years, all manufacturing plants erected in the town or within designated limits outside of it. The town contains stores, churches, bank, graded school, etc. Manufacturers seeking a place to locate, can obtain further information from the editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

To INVESTORS.—Newport to day, is greatly in need of dwelling houses, that can be rented at from $8 to $12 per month. Fifty of such, in addition to what are already there, could be filled at once. Within the past year many families have had to move away from the town, because the owners of houses wanted them for their own occupancy, and others were not to be obtained; besides, there are many engaged in the large manufacturing of Wilmington, only two miles off, that would gladly avail themselves of an opportunity to obtain pleasanter homes and more breathing-room, at a point so easy of access, the fare by steam road being no more than local horse-car fare. Any one having money to invest, will find a large return from it from building dwellings at Newport. The editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD can furnish fuller details.

Lot-Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

L. S. Samuel, of Gloucester City, N. J., has purchased fifteen lots in Gloucester Township.

Eddie Meitler, of Camden, N. J., three lots in Liberty Park at that place.

Liberty Park Association has sold a lot to Wilhelm Uer, of Camden, N. J.

William Touty, of Camden, N. J., two lots at the same place.

Pauline Uber, of Camden, N. J., three lots at that place.

Frank James, of Haddonfield, N. J., lot at that place.

S. O. Lowry, Real Estate Broker at McKeesport, Pa., has sold to George B. Warren, seven lots in the Goldstrolm plan.

Eyster & Grove, of Chambersburg, Pa., have sold building lots to the following persons: A. J. Stepler, two; R. E. Hazelet, one; John Tariz, three; A. J. Small, one; Jacob Remick, two; E. W. Zerrfoss, two; Emanuel Shade, two.

Important to Real Estate Brokers.

An action to recover commission on the sale of real estate was brought in Common Pleas, No. 4, entitled Hull vs Blackburn. Hull admitted that he had paid no City tax as a broker. He said he was not a general broker. His sign was real estate and insurance. Blackburn owned the property, and one Bombatz had a lease, with the privilege of buying. Stack for plaintiff and Bonham for defendant. Verdict for defendant.

Judge Arnold in his charge to the jury, said: "They are suing here for commission on the sale of real estate, although the sale was never completed. You have heard the testimony as to how this bargain was made. After some preliminary effort they finally fixed on the price as $45,000. It is also admitted that notice was given to Mr. Hull and his intended purchaser, Betz, of the Bombatz agreement, as it is called. Bombatz had an option on that property of buying before the 14th or 15th of March, 1889. It is said that the bargain with Betz was subject to the Bombatz agreement. The Bombatz agreement was finally carried out, and Mr. Blackburn not being able to make a sale with Betz, says it was no fault of his, and contends that he is not responsible to Hull for the commission. Now that is reasonable, but if Mr. Blackburn had kept it a secret in his own breast and not told Hull of it, and for that reason the sale was not effected, it was Blackburn's fault, and Hull would be entitled to his commission.

It is said that the intended purchaser Bombatz was to have paid the taxes before March 26th, 1889, and not having done so, Hull thought he was at liberty to sell to Betz. Now while I would think so, and probably you would, unfortunately the Courts have ruled otherwise, and they say that where time is the essence of the contract, it does not prevent the parties carrying out the contract within a reasonable time afterwards. Now it seems that Bombatz assigned the contract to other parties, and they came and demanded the deed and Blackburn gave it to them. The Supreme Court has said as late as February 4th, of this year, that where time is the essence of the contract, equity will enforce an agreement to sell, notwithstanding they had not entered into a performance of the contract, unless there had been gross negligence. Now was there gross negligence on the part of Bombatz, who ought to have paid those taxes before the 26th of March, 1889, and they were not paid for some months afterwards? Your notions of law may be different, but the law is that these minor parts of the contract not being kept up, do not deprive the parties from having the thing itself if they come within a reasonable time and demand it. Whether Bombatz came within a reasonable time, and whether Hull knew he would not make the sale, are matters you will have to settle from the evidence.

There is another point in the case as to the rights of a man to claim commission. If a man is in business as a real estate broker he cannot recover commissions for his services, unless he has paid license tax as a broker; anybody else can. If a real estate broker had not paid his license tax it would deprive him of the right to claim commission, although he had made a sale. Now you will determine whether Hull was a real estate broker in the general sense of the term. If you find Hull as a real estate broker had not paid taxes, you will find against him. If you find he was not a general broker, but only occasionally made sales and purchases, he would be entitled to recover on a special contract. If he was defeated by any wilful act of Blackburn, or any previous contract that he had no knowledge of, it would excuse him for not carrying out the contract, and he would be entitled to his commission if it was a special agreement."

WHAT THE FOLLOWING PARTIES SAY ABOUT THEIR LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT.

Philadelphia, June 20th, 1889.

Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co.

Gents—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,
Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks.

Schauffer's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.
Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co.

Dear Sirs—The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.

SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,

Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. Will last 10 to 15 years.

Glen-Echo on the Potomac,
Office E. & E. Baltzley, Room 7, Sun Building,
Washington, D. C., Dec. 3, 1890.

Editor REAL ESTATE RECORD AND GUIDE,

Dear Sir:—We have received several letters from various persons on various subjects touching our work at Glen-Echo, in which they state that they have seen an article in your paper, entitled "A Visit to Washington," which is described as a good description of Glen-Echo.

Would you kindly send us ten copies of the issue containing this article, with bill, the amount of which we will remit at once. It is very likely that we will subscribe for your paper, as it may prove of considerable value to us, especially now that our picturesque Cafe has been destroyed by fire and a new one is contemplated in its stead. One of the letters to which reference is made is dated November 20th, so we suppose this will give you an idea of the date of the issue of your paper containing the particular item we desire.

Very truly yours,

E. & E. BALTZLEY.

Sow Your Dollars in Fertile Soil,

THAT THEY MAY BRING YOU A PLENTY HARVEST--SOME FIFTY, SOME AN HUNDRED and SOME A THOUSAND FOLD.

THE STAUNTON DEVELOPMENT CO., of Staunton, Va., prior to closing its books on the issue of $1,250,000 of its lot-bearing stock, offers a limited number of shares to careful investors of all classes.

The first question an investor asks, Is the investment SAFE? The next one, Is it PROFITABLE? The Company, its holdings and its resources, will stand the closest investigation. It is composed of well-known, influential and eminently successful business men, and is built on a solid, substantial foundation. The Company owns nearly 3,000 acres of the finest building and industrial lands in the State, and immediately surrounding the city of Staunton, Va. This city has now a population of 12,000, which is being daily added to, and industrial enterprises of all sorts are locating there or seeking for an opportunity to do so. Both the Baltimore & Ohio and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroads pass through the city, with the Norfolk & Western but twelve miles distant. There are two connecting railroads which will soon be built and in operation, one to connect the Cumberland Valley R. R. and the other the Staunton & West Augusta R. R. to the vast coal and timber sections in Highland, Pendleton and Pocahontas Counties.

The growth of this city is as substantial as it is rapid. It possesses NOW all the desirable features of a Northern city, in its water, gas and electric light systems, educational facilities and its refined society, while it is not exceeded by any city in the Union in its WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT. Since the formation of this Company, only a short time ago, property in and around the city of Staunton has advanced from 25 to 1000 per Cent.

And is steadily moving upward, the conservative management of affairs guaranteeing permanency. NOW is the time to invest in the stock of the Company, with every assurance that a dividend of from 20 to 25 per cent. at least should be earned and paid from that alone within the next twelve months. As every holder of each two shares of stock is entitled to a LOT FREE, which alone should be worth as much if not several times the value of the stock, it can be seen there is Absolutely No Risk At All.

The par value of the shares is only $100 each, and only ten per cent. (or $20 on each two shares of stock) of this amount is called for per month until all is paid.

A very large proportion of the stock has already been placed and the BOOKS WILL BE CLOSED ON OR BEFORE DEC. 20; so those who wish to place their money in a SAFE INVESTMENT, where they are morally sure to receive handsome returns, should at once call on our Eastern representative, Mr. D. Z. Evans, Jr., who will cheerfully reply to all questions and receive subscriptions for the stock until the books are closed. Prospectuses and other information will be sent by mail on application.

THIS STOCK IS AS SAFE AS GOVERNMENT BONDS, AND FAR MORE PROFITABLE.

Men who Build HOUSES

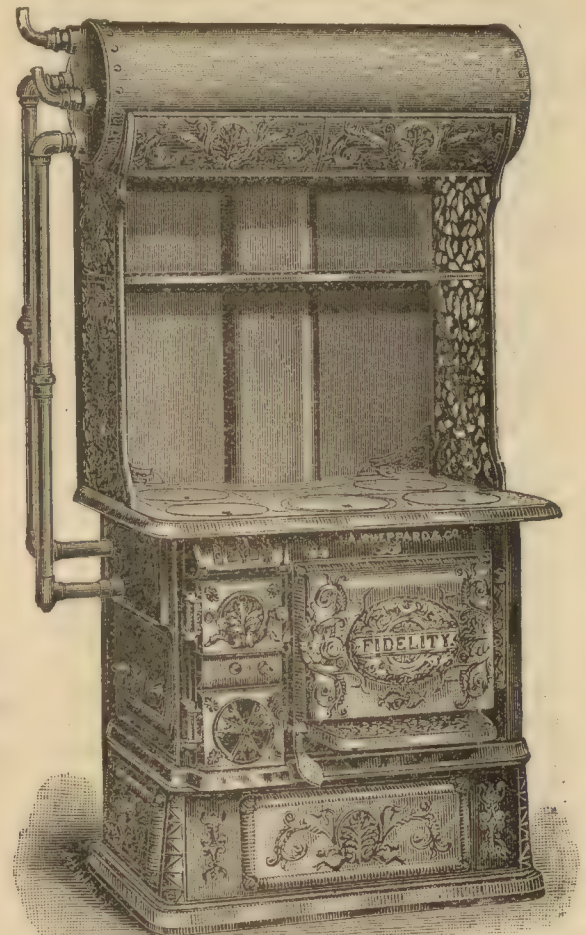

Need To Buy Ranges !

If they themselves occupy them of course the ranges should be good ones. If they intend selling or renting them good ranges in the kitchen will help the Builder or Owner to sell or rent to better advantage. In either case

Does it Pay

to put in cheap ranges of no particular reputation, when a mere trifle in the way of additional expense would provide the

"Excelsior" or the "Fidelity ?"

FIDELITY RANGES.

LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT

Philadelphia, June 20th, 1889.
MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & Co.
Gents—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.
Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,
Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks

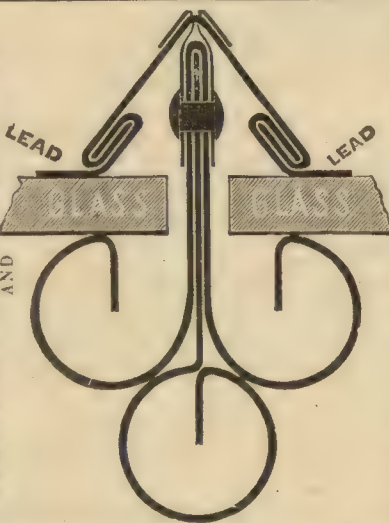

Schauffer's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.
MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & Co.
Dear Sirs—The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.
SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,
Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. WILL LAST TEN TO FIFTY YEARS.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

TIMBER-DOODLES.

And now be it declared that hereafter all persons, whether holding public office or otherwise, who may in any way oppose rapid transit, belt line, or other improvements that will enhance the comfort and commercial prosperity of the citizens of Philadelphia, shall be forever known by the euphonious name of Timber-Doodles. Philadelphia REAL ESTATE RECORD, December 17th, 1890.

WITH an extraordinary increase in the volume of currency during the past few months; with an increase of fully fifty per cent. in the total aggregate within six years; with spasmodic loan certificate expedients by New York and Philadelphia banks, aided by frightened and hypocritical assurances of a half-informed daily press, that the worst is over and all is lovely, there is still deep and growing distrust among business men, and greater and more pressing need for financial assistance. A score or so of schemes have been proposed in committee-rooms at Washington, which contemplate relief.

Bankers here and there continue their futile and selfish discussions concerning some general and improved system of banking which will meet the requirements of the time. Meanwhile manufacturers and business men generally, are pinched and crowded to get money enough out of an enormous volume of business to pay wages and to cover current cash expenses. The money-lenders shout that it is all due to a lack of confidence; that there is enough money for all legitimate wants, and that it will soon re-appear. Yet the statistics show that the volume of business, at banks, as represented by cash deposits as distinct from checks, has risen from four to 8 per cent. within seven years. This argument may cut both ways, but one plain and reasonable inference is, that there is a growing need for more cash. The volume of money per capita is given at $24 in the United States; in France, $60; in England and some other places $40. Why should we need less? Why can we get along with less, especially when we consider the enormous investments being made in enterprises for the time being unproductive? The claim of the expansionists is, that a country like this, with its great extent, its long lines of railways, its manufacturing and commercial interests, its activity in all directions, calls for a larger supply of money than has been allowed. The agricultural and labor classes have, for years, demanded this in their platform. The Government has found it necessary to almost double the supply of money since 1870. It has been forced to yield to the demands of the silver men, and it is now pressed by a powerful interest still further in the same direction of unlimited coinage. Even the British Government is considering the advisability of issuing $60,000,000 worth of paper money based on silver. European countries find the pressure in the direction of expansion. Oriental markets are calling for silver and further loans of money. The whole world seems awakened to the necessity of a large supply of the instrument of exchange. In what way shall this demand be met, and to what extent shall the volume of money be increased, are two questions that many bankers and business men are trying to answer. The defects of our present "admirable" (?) national banking system, are more fully apparent than ever. Some favor patching the system by decreasing the amount of reserve; other remedies are suggested; but a better, more general, more elastic system is needed, not only because the basis of the national banking system is being narrowed year by year, but because the demands and needs of the people are growing. This is hardly the time or place to take sides with this or that party or clique or interest as to methods; the great fact to-day is that there is urgent need for more money. Banking interests generally controvert this statement, and assert it is not a question of money, but of credit. The future prosperity of this country depends largely on its ability to do a cash business, and to get away from the slavish dependence on banks of issue. Banks of deposit cannot be too rapidly multiplied, when we have a proper financial system; but banks of issue, based on government bonds, never can meet the expanding demands of this country. The banking interests, and the newspapers they control, have dinned it into the people that there should be no money but what has the bank's stamp and sanction, until they actually believe it and are incapable of believing anything else. The fact is the public interests will never be free from danger until banks of issue are unknown. People shout for collaterals, for securities, when a government money is suggested. What was the basis of the sixty million legal tender issue in war times but the dictum of the government that it was money. But the money-lending interests are too all-powerful, and the masses of the so-called intelligent and educated people too densely ignorant in financial matters to even consider an issue of purely government money based as it should be, and ultimately will be, on the faith and resources of the American people, receivable for taxes and duties on imports. We must dilly dally and pull our fools cap over our eyes a little longer, and talk of bank issues and deal with ourselves through banking interests which control Congress and the press. It is useless for millions of farmers to demand a government money. They are asking for what the strongly-entrenched money powers will never willingly grant. What then must we, can we do? Are we facing further dangers, more failures, greater depression? We certainly are, if the money-lending and banking interests continue to control and to run our finances as near the gold-dollar basis as possible. The gold-dollar basis is the modern tyrant's whip. By it England has controlled the commerce of the world for decades, but the world is getting its eyes open, so to speak. Nothing but an abundant supply of money, free from the control of selfish money-lending interests, will ever save us from worse times. We possess all the elements of advancement and development, but if our expanding energies cannot be supported by financial instruments of exchange, they must cease. Work cannot be done without money. The country is in danger, but its public men do not see it. The panic of 1872-78 was the outcome of an insufficient currency. With an added volume the country sprang forward in an unexampled career of prosperity which lasted ten years. We have again reached the limit as measured by our supply of money. Must we stop until our short-sighted policy results in a general commercial and industrial depression? It looks a little that way.

As indicated by this journal at the time of the fire which destroyed the large cooperage of Armstrong & Printzingshoff, Otsego and Washington avenue, a new structure is about to be built 46x174 feet in size, to be of brick, frame and iron, and fitted with the necessary machinery.

Gillison, Christie & Lockerbe, contractors, have received the contract to erect the new machine shops and offices of the Belmont Iron Works, at Southwest corner of Twenty-second street and Washington avenue. A description of this structure has been given in previous number of this journal.

In addition to the present Church of Saint Thomas Aquinas, located at Eighteenth and Morris streets, it is the intention to erect in the near future a parochial house, a convent and parish school, upon the same block and for which P. A. Welsh, 429 Walnut street, is the architect, who also planned the church, and who will make drawings and supervise all the work.

William A. It is the intention of the Real Estate Trust Company, on Chestnut street east of Broad, to add the building 1342, recently purchased for them by H. C. Gibson, Esq., to their present institution. Collins, secretary of the Club, or John S. McKinlay, Attorney-at-Law, 132 South Sixth street, can give additional information.

GALLAGHER'S BUYERS —OF— Building Material, Machinery, Etc.

TO SELL Building Material and the many specialties that now enter into construction work, you must go to those who require it. An advertisement inserted in the columns of a journal that reaches weekly many thousands who must buy in order to build, will certainly influence directly and indirectly more trade to your shop than any other. The out-of-town builder of houses, like his city brother, is not apt to patronize a country cross-road store if he can buy from large dealers located at commercial centres.

THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE

Is recognized as the best advertising medium for reaching buyers of building material, machinery, boilers, etc., in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C., as it is placed yearly in the hands of over 150,000 persons in the above sections and elsewhere, who are reported in its columns as going to build, independent of its subscription list.

EHRET'S SLAG ROOFING

has been applied in this City and vicinity for upwards of twenty years, it has stood the severest tests as to its fire-proof, acid-proof, steam or vapor-proof qualities, it is the best Roof in existence to day for manufactory Buildings, in fact for any flat, or nearly flat surfaces. It is cheaper and more durable than Tin or Slate.

We are the original Patentees of this Roof. Beware of imitations.

LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT

Philadelphia, June 20th, 1889.

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.

Gents—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,

Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks.

Schausler's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.

Dear Sirs—The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.

SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,

Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. WILL LAST TEN TO FIFTEEN YEARS.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Northwestern Architect.]

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

"As is compatible with this progressive period, even wall plaster has succumbed to inventive genius, and 'the day is nearly done' when our handsomely decorated walls and ceilings shall be ruined by reason of the utter unreliability of the old style mortar. To meet this demand for a non-porous plaster, Adamant has appeared on the market, and is now being manufactured in nearly every State in the Union."

[From the Scientific American.]

"Some of the advantages Adamant possesses above the other plaster is the extreme hardness of the wall. It will neither crack nor crumble. It is a strong support to a building. It does not swell timbers by an absorption of the moisture, as the material itself absorbs most of it. It dries so quickly after it is applied to the wall, that in a few hours frost will have no effect on it. We are convinced that this Adamant is destined to revolutionize the business of house plastering."

[From the Baltimore Commercial.]

"Adamant makes a wall as hard as marble, at a slight cost."

[From the Leader and Herald.]

CLEVELAND, O., March 22, 1889.

"The problem has been to provide a substitute that would not only produce a perfect wall, but be comparatively cheap and easily applied as well. Repeated tests, under the most exacting conditions, clearly prove that such a happy combination has at last been secured in the plastering material called 'Adamant,' now being so extensively introduced in this city."

[From the Builder, Decorator and Wood Worker.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA.

"Nothing in house building has so long withstood the 'march of improvement,' notwithstanding it has failed to give a substantial wall, while many houses become defaced and old in a few months on account of broken walls and ceilings. 'Adamant' obviates all this, and is the coming wall plaster."

[From the New York Commercial News.]

"There is not the least doubt about 'Adamant' wall plaster will last as long as the building upon which it is used."

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Prop'r.

Refers with permission to William M. Singerly
Proprietor of Phila. "Record."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. DEC. 24, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

THE indications at present are that the twelve months of 1890 will greatly surpass 1889 in both construction work and the value of the conveyances of real estate. We will give the figures in full for 1890 in our issue of January 7th, 1891.

MR. JOHN LUCAS has repeatedly announced both privately and publicly that the proper surveys have been made with the view of establishing the feasibility of constructing a sub way for the Reading Terminal, and that such sub-way was not only possible, but that a sufficient amount of English capital was ready to do the work under the most advantageous terms to the city. As an underground or sub-way would be infinitely preferable to any elevated method, isn't this the time for Mr. Lucas to speak out in meeting and push the underground with his usual vigor and ability?

Real Estate and Art.

The novelty of combining real estate and art, belongs to Mr. Clayton W. Pierson, proprietor of the West Philadelphia Real Estate Agency, 3819 Lancaster avenue. Being an ardent admirer of fine paintings and having a number of beautiful rooms over his office, he has given full scope to his artistic tastes, and now not only submits for public inspection his own collection but also a large number of the best productions of such well known modern artists as Charles Linford, Thomas B. Craig, H. R. Poore, W. M. Harnett, Edmund D. Lewis, Herman Simon, Peter Moran, J. B. Sword, Geo. W. Nicholson, H. Herzog, A. F. Bunner, Dubois F. Hasbrouck, F. D. Briscoe C. H. Sherer, F. DeHaven, Geo. T. Hobbs, H. Bolton Jones, Frederick J. Waugh, Paul Weber, Frank K. M. Rehn. Mr. Pierson has expensively fitted up his galleries with the view of embarking into the business of selling fine pictures as an adjunct to his real estate business. The paintings, themselves, represent one of the best collections in the city, and one suitable for holiday and wedding presents. The galleries are open daily, and on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings. All are invited.

The following important opinion handed down by Judge Finletter will be read with interest by real estate agents. The decision was rendered in the matter of exceptions to an auditor's report distributing the proceeds of the assigned estate of the Fairmount Cab Company. There was a claim against the company for $1,726.86 for violation of contract in not taking at the price agreed upon the ground of the old Tivoli Garden, on Fairmount avenue above Tenth street. Fred. Sylvester & Brother, real estate brokers, as agents for the owners of the property, accepted $200, and signed a receipt, binding their principals, the owners of the property, to accept that amount as their whole damage. Judge Finletter said in deciding the case against Sylvester & Brother: "In transactions relating to personal property, possession by the agent may bind the principals to price and delivery and terms, in the absence of collusion. In all other transactions the unauthorized acts of an agent must be ratified by the principal to make him liable. The business of agents for the purchase or sale of real estate is simply to bring the parties together. What is done by them beyond this must be specifically authorized or ratified by their principal as to make them responsible. They have no implied authority from the nature of their business. They cannot bind their principals as to the terms of sale or the damages which may arise from the breach of any contract for the purchase or sale of real estate."

Lot-Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

At Avondale, Pa., Benjamin W. Valentine, lot at same place.

W. C. Schaefer has purchased a lot 87 feet 2 inches x 200 feet on Chelton avenue, south of Boyer street, Germantown, Phila.

Material in building will be first two stories of granite laid in red mortar, remainder red brick with stone sills and capping. Interior will have six large hydraulic elevators, and an electric plant for light; also large gates and roadways will be constructed on the ground floor. Duplicate boilers, pumps and engines will be placed in basement under the pavement. The capacity of the warehouse proper, will be 100,000 barrels of flour. The property at the corner of Broadway and Federal streets, owned by Mrs. Carman, is spoken of as a suitable site for such a building. James Rashen & Co., Sixth and Mechanic streets, have taken out a permit for the erection of a one-story brick and stone building, 40x80 feet, to replace the one recently destroyed by fire. It will be used as a dye house. A large storehouse, 20x30 feet, will also be erected. This will be of corrugated iron.

At Asbury Park, Monmouth Co., subscription papers are being circulated to obtain the necessary funds for the establishing of the proposed factory for the manufacture of underwear. Mr. James A. Bradley has donated a site for the factory, also twenty-six lots, from which the committee expect to realize about $9,000. The factory will be conducted by Messrs. Steiner & Son, who have contributed $5,000. The building and power is estimated to cost $17,000. The factory will be erected at West Bradley Beach, and work will be commenced at once, so as to be ready for work in the spring. About 500 hands will be given employment.

The firm has purchased additional ground adjoining its former site, and will cover the whole with a handsome new structure, to be fitted with all modern improvements and conveniences suitable to the business of the firm.

At Peters Creek, Lancaster Co., it is reported that a syndicate of Pittsburgh gentlemen have taken the option on considerable land, with a view of boring for gas, and also to erect a large glass works. GALLAGHER'S BUYERS —OF— Building Material, Machinery, Etc.

TO SELL Building Material and the many specialties that now enter into construction work, you must go to those who require it. An advertisement inserted in the columns of a journal that reaches weekly many thousands who must buy in order to build, will certainly influence directly and indirectly more trade to your shop than any other. The out-of-town builder of houses, like his city brother, is not apt to patronize a country cross-road store if he can buy from large dealers located at commercial centres.

THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE

Is recognized as the best advertising medium for reaching buyers of building material, machinery, boilers, etc., in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C., as it is placed yearly in the hands of over 150,000 persons in the above sections and elsewhere, who are reported in its columns as going to build, independent of its subscription list.

LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT

Philadelphia, June 20th, 1889.

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.

Gents—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.

Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,

Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks.

Schauffer's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.

MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.

Dear Sirs—The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.

SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

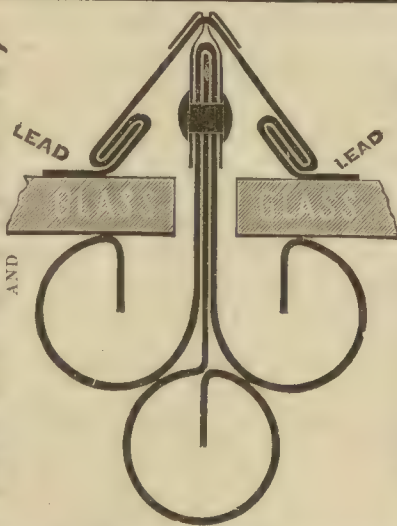

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,

Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. WILL LAST TEN TO FIFTEEN YEARS.

A MAN MAY SUFFER
—FROM—
MENTAL OBLIQUITY AND NOT KNOW IT.

A LOSS of energy is known as laziness, and while laziness is distinguishable, mental obliquity can only be recognized in the man who fails in mental grasp or in that power to direct his efforts to profitable channels. Smith works harder than Jones, and yet he does not succeed. The reason is, Jones uses his brains while Smith depends upon his legs.

Jones sits in his office chair, carefully peruses the Building News reported in THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE, makes out his list of those who must buy his wares, his skill, his services, quietly presents his claims, secures a hearing if not a contract, while poor Penny-wise and Pound-foolish Smith is hustling for a few pointers that Jones already knew before he left his office.

Smith wastes fifty dollars worth of energy in his efforts to glean information that cost Jones about nine and a half cents per week to find out beforehand.

Jones subscribes for the above journal, Smith doesn't, and perhaps never will. Joneses are plenty, but there are lots of Smiths.

A refusal to subscribe for THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE is a sure evidence of mental obliquity.

JOHN N. GALLAGHER, Prop'r.

Refers with permission to William M. Singerly
Proprietor of Phila. "Record."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. DEC. 31, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

We voice the sentiment of the citizens of Philadelphia.

FOR MAYOR,

Edwin S. Stuart.

He is Honest, Capable and Incorruptible.

THE people of Philadelphia are always more or less handicapped. In fact, it seems impossible for them to solve such weighty questions as Rapid Transit, Belt Line, and Reading Terminal on the basis of obtaining the most advantageous terms and methods, besides such money consideration as such franchises should command; for just as soon as the question of granting franchises is raised, that moment the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, the Traction Company or some other selfish and arrogant corporation stretches out its long arm, and by intimidation, if not by the corrupting influences of money, bars the way, until the people become red-hot with indignation at the cool audacity of the corporations on the one hand and the rascality or timidity of their representatives in Councils on the other, and the fight becomes really not one involving the merits of the question at all, but a fight against the opposition; while such important considerations as grade-crossings, compensation and indemnity to property owners are entirely lost sight of.

The Reading Terminal, while badly needed, was a cold question of business. The matter should have been as deliberately considered as though there had been no opposition. The people will soon have an opportunity of relegating the timber-doodles of both branches of Councils back to private life. We want new men in Councils, and men who are above the influences of railroad corporations, and who are in favor of such improvements as the people of a great city need.

MAYOR FITLER having signed the Reading Terminal and Belt Line ordinances, Philadelphia can enter the new year with the pleasing assurance of having shed a few of the shackles that have so long impeded her progress in every direction. These two measures are or should be only the opening wedge to numerous other important measures calculated to urge the city forward on a career of practical improvements to the occupation of the place she should fill as one of the most unique and thoroughly American cities of the country. The capabilities for advancement are absolutely boundless. With Rapid Transit should come a better water supply, both as to quantity and quality, well paved streets, which should be kept clean, good gas and many other improvements too numerous to mention. All these will come if the people can be made to see the necessity of them, and to use the necessary power for bringing it about. There is really no good reason why Councilmen should be allowed to "burst in ignorance" of the wishes of the people they are supposed to represent. Let it be dinned into their ears that unless they vote for measures advantageous to the interests of the city they can step down and out to make room for men of a better mould who have the courage of their convictions and realize that they are the servants of the people and under obligations to respect their wishes.

WE beg to call attention to the removal of the Mutual Banking Surety and Safe Deposit Company, late of 831 Arch street, to their new office 1317 Arch street, where they have fitted up handsome apartments and offices for the accommodation of their increasing volume of business.

WE are in receipt of a copy of the Mining, Manufacturing and Real Estate South, of Atlanta, Ga., a monthly publication devoted to mining, manufacturing and real estate interests South. It is a handsome twenty-four-page paper, and occupies a field heretofore unopened in Southern journalism. In typographical appearance it is one of the neatest periodicals ever printed in the South, and the reading matter is of more than ordinary interest to those who are in sympathy with Southern development.

THE result of the trial for conspiracy of Hamilton Albright, architect, 508 Walnut street, resulted in a full and complete exoneration. Mr. Albright was arrested on charges brought by E. N. Manning, a client for whom Albright was supervising the erection of a dwelling at Elm, the contract having been let to George W. J. Wills for $5,000. Manning became financially embarrassed, and it seems lost title to the property. Albright, as architect, gave Wills, the contractor and builder, two orders on Manning for $500 each, in accordance with the terms of the contract. Fifteen hundred dollars would have been due Wills in a few days, but Albright insisted on a full release from Wills on account of his inability to comply with the terms of the contract, owing to Manning's financial trouble and non title Judge Fell, before whom the case was tried, instructed the Jury to find an acquittal for Albright, as it was absurd to suppose that he would have conspired with Wills to defraud Manning in the face of the fact of his taking the contract away from Wills when $1,500 was almost due him.

The Columbia Cycle Calendar.

By far the most valuable business calendar for 1891 is the Columbia Cycle Calendar and Stand, issued by the Pope Mfg. Co., of Boston, Mass. It is in the form of a pad containing 366 leaves, each leaf having on it date, day of week, day of year, and number of days to come, a paragraph pertaining to cycling or some kindred subject. The leaves are fastened only on the end, so that each entire leaf can be exposed. The stand is made of stained wood, brass mounted, with pencil holder and pen rack. Although this is the sixth year of the Calendar, the matter is fresh and new, the larger number of paragraphs having been specially written for this purpose.

Perpetual Tax Liens on Real Estate Not Possible.

In the case of the City vs. Isaac Heister for taxes due under a lien claim for 1877 and 1878, the City was defeated. Judge Biddle, before whom the case was tried, gave an elaborate opinion, of which the following is the first: "By the act of May 4th, 1889, the lien of taxes is limited to two years, unless entered of record, and limited to five, if recorded, unless continued by 'writ of scire facias within said period and duly prosecuted to judgment,' showing that at the very last session of the Legislature it was their clear intention then, as before, to put an end to perpetual liens."

A Sanitary House and its Furnishings.

It will stand facing the sun, on a dry soil, in a wide, clean, amply-sewered, substantially-paved street, over a deep, thoroughly-ventilated and lighted cellar. The floor of the cellar will be cemented, the wall and ceiling plastered and thickly whitewashed with lime every year, that the house may not act as a chimney, to draw up into its chambers micro-organisms from the earth. Doors and windows, some of which extend from floor to ceiling, will be as abundant as circumstances permit, and will be adjusted to secure as much as may be through currents of air. The outside walls, if of wood or brick, will be kept thickly painted, not to shut out penetrating air, but for the sake of dryness. All inside walls will be plastered smooth, painted, and, however unæsthetic, varnished. Mantels will be of marble, slate, iron, or if of wood, plain, and whether natural, painted or stained, will be varnished. Interior wood-work, including floors, will all show plain surfaces, and be likewise treated. Movable rugs, which can be shaken daily in the open air—not at doors or out of the windows, where dust is blown back into the rooms—will cover the floors. White linen shades, which will soon show the necessity of washing, will protect the windows. All furniture will be plain, with cane seats, perhaps, but without upholstery. Mattresses will be covered with oiled silk; blankets, sheets and spreads (no comforts or quilts) will constitute the bedding. Of plumbing, there shall be as little as is necessary, and all there is shall be exposed, as is the practice now. The inhabited rooms shall be heated only with open fires, the cellar and hall by radiated heat, or, better, by hot-air furnace, which shall take its fresh air from above the top of the house, and not from the cellar itself or the surface of the earth, where micro-organisms most abound. There will be "house-cleaning" twice a year. Put into this house industrious, intelligent and informed men and women—absolutely essential conditions—and as much will be done as at present may be done to prevent the dissemination from it of contagious disease, when an inmate brings it home from a septic house, hospital, sleeping-car, school-room, theatre, church, etc.—Independent.

In San Antonio, Texas, a new wood has been pressed into service for paving. The "mesquite" is a scrubby straggling tree that grows more commonly in Western and Southwestern Texas than elsewhere. But little use has been found for it heretofore except as firewood and fences, although before the coming of the railroads it was brought into service for building. It is very durable, as is evidenced by the weather-beaten lintels and caps in the doors and windows of some of the old Spanish missions built as early as 1730. Mesquite blocks of a hexagonal shape are now used as street paving in the city of San Antonio. Its plentiful supply and lasting qualities are likely to bring it into permanent use in the far Southwest.—Texas Trade Journal.

Recent experiments on the strength of bricks have resulted in demonstrating a resistance to crushing of from 5,000 lbs. to 22,000 lbs. per square inch, according to the quality of the brick. The average of ten varieties was 7,150 lbs. per square inch. As the standard of strength for bricks given by most engineering text-books is only from 500 lbs. to 5,200 lbs., it is supposed that great improvements in the manufacture of bricks must have been made since these books were compiled. Bricks impregnated with coal tar are reported to be rendered hard, durable and perfectly waterproof. The process of impregnation is extremely simple; the bricks, which should be good, being boiled in tar for twenty-four hours, then taken out and allowed to drain. Bricks thus treated are stated to be especially adapted for paving-stones, etc. They are also particularly recommended for the construction of sewers, cess-pools, damp-proof foundation walls, and other similar works, for which a waterproof brick is obviously desirable. There are many purposes for which waterproof bricks set in cement are highly convenient; and these tar-soaked bricks are the cheapest that can be procured for such uses.—Architecture and Building.

From a "Topic of the Time," with the above title in The Century for September, we quote as follows: "It cannot be denied that our unrestricted suffrage makes the problem more difficult here than it is abroad; but the difficulty is not insurmountable, and is it not, as it is often claimed to be, the chief cause of our troubles. We are in the habit of charging all our worst evils to the combined ignorant and corrupt vote, but there is not a city in the land in which that vote is not many thousands less than the combined intelligent and honest vote. The trouble is that the latter vote, misled by party names and party issues which have no bearing upon questions of municipal rule, is about evenly divided in most municipal elections, and is thus deprived of nearly all its influence. When the happy day shall come that the respectable voters of our cities join hands and say that henceforth they will know no politics in the administration of city affairs, and will only ask of a candidate whether or not he is fit and honest, then there will no longer be any danger to apprehend from the combined ignorant and vicious vote. It will make very little difference what kind of a system we have upon which to govern the city when this spirit shall have entered into the election of its officials, but until we can secure that spirit in the elections it will be useless to hope for reform under the most perfect system which the human mind can devise, for an ideal system administered by ignorant and corrupt men cannot produce intelligent and honest government without performing a miracle.

If I were to build a house, the kitchen and bath-room would be uppermost in my mind in regard to convenience and health. The kitchen I would want to have large and high, as the other rooms in the house, with ventilator over the range, and I should want stationary tubs a nice large sink with waste pipes large enough to carry off all waste water without clogging up and having to be dug up often to clean them out. Closets for barrel of flour, etc., with a door to put the barrel in and a lid to raise to take out the flour as wanted, are desirable. The bath-room should be plenty large to admit a person to get round without hitting the shins on some piece of furniture; the dining-room, long and wide enough to set a good long table, and get round it nicely, but not to accommodate a sofa and two or three rockers, to fall over. I do not think the dining-room ought to be made for any other purpose than to eat in. There should be two nice sleeping-rooms on the first floor; one could be utilized as a sewing-room, if not needed every day for a sleeping-room, but would be a great convenience in case of sickness. I would not have a dead room in the house, or more commonly called parlor, (only used on wedding or funeral occasions.) I would pay strict attention to having my own sleeping room, light and pleasant, with nice clothes room and closets for medicines, etc. I would have the whole house finished off in hard wood, either oak, chestnut or ash, polished and oiled; the dining-room floor, made of Georgia pine, oiled. The front hall should be carpeted.—Economy.

Rational Architecture.

The very art element of architecture has been the cause of its degradation. From the most useful of arts, it has become mostly ornamental. From meaning and expressing the utility of an edifice, it has come to refer to its appearance only. The people have forgotten that it arose from the necessity of man for shelter, and view it as a product of the study or of the studio, in which beauty and æsthetic effects are the only ends sought, while utility, convenience, expression of intention, all have become secondary considerations. Nothing could be more erroneous, nothing more fatal to the production of sound architecture.

Architecture is not the product of the imagination, but the result of experience and foresight. The painter in his studio, or the sculptor in his, has nothing to dictate to his thoughts or force them into certain channels. His fancy is free, and he allows it to carry him where it will. The architect, on the other hand, is limited by innumerable requirements and difficulties, all of which are real and physical, and all of which must be overcome before his work can be a success. His creations are not intended for the decoration of a gallery, or to be preserved under glass, but they must stand the test of time and of climate, must bear a relation to the manner and customs of the day.—Utility in Architecture, by Barr Ferree, Popular Science.

Architects Notes.

Frank Miles Day architect, has removed his office to the Penn Mutual Building, 925 Chestnut street.

Harold Godwin architect, 905 Walnut street, Philadelphia, has made preliminary sketches for the proposed additions to the house of the Columbian Club, at Broad and Oxford streets.

Plans and specifications are upon boards at F. Amwegs' office in the Lucas Building, for a three-story house for J. Patton Lockhart, at Richland, Va., to be built of stone, brick and frame, and to be fitted with all modern conveniences. Estimates are being received.

Will H. Decker architect, 1407½ Chestnut street, Philada., is engaged on plans for alteration and addition to the restaurant of William Boothby, of 1233 Chestnut street. The building will be entirely remodeled and fitted with steam heat, a fine passenger elevator and electric work. All modern conveniences and comforts for patrons will be introduced. Handsome decorations and hangings, are part of the plans. No contracts have been let.

A large majority of the architects of Philadelphia, express themselves most decidedly, in favor of Rapid Transit, Belt Line and Reading Terminal and believe that the advantages once gained, will increase the building interests alone, one hundred per cent., if not more. Among those who favor public improvement and progressive ideas, may be named: Theophilus P. Chandler, Furness & Evans, Hazelhurst & Huckel, Moses & King, P. A. Welsh, Chas. M. Burns, J. Elwin Jackson, A. E. Yarnall, and a host of others. These gentlemen look upon the merits of the question, from a professional stand-point, and therefore, their opinion receives not only respect, but is doubly valuable.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, 410 Walnut Street, Phila., have prepared plans, which have been accepted by A. H. Postel, of the firm of Postel & Gillbee, 527 Arch Street, Phila., for a handsome residence to be erected for Mr. Postel, at Lansdowne, Pa., to take the place of the one destroyed by fire some months since. The new residence will be of Avondale stone, three stories high, heated by hot air, will have a number of stained glass windows, Spanish tile roof, cemented cellar, fret work on interior, and all modern improvements and conveniences, including electric lights, etc. The cost will be about $15,000. Also, plans for an office and store building to be erected at Durham, N. C., for J. S. Carr, to be three stories high, of stone, Pompeian brick and terra cotta; interior to be fitted with electric work, steam heat and all modern conveniences. Also, plans for the house of Mr. Cramp, at Sixteenth and Locust Streets, complete and on boards for estimates.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The specification for the new 20,000,000 gallon pumping engines for the Spring Garden Water Works Station, have been approved and bids for them will be opened in February.

William Roberts will erect a fine large foundry, 35x52 feet, one-story high, of brick, on Gillingham, West of Mulberry street. It will be fitted with the proper machinery for the purposes of casting.

William Reith, stained glass, 134 N. Seventh street, contemplates the erection of a handsome business building, on the site of his present building. It will be arranged for studio, workshops, exhibition room and for the storage of raw material.

The firm of T. Milton, Shaft & Company, manufacturers of terra cotta, pompeian and enamelled brick, in Philadelphia and Milville, N. J., has just opened a suite of offices in the Times Building, New York City, for the sale of their product.

The West Manayunk Gas Light Company, has purchased additional property on north side of Main street, for purposes of increasing its facilities for manufacturing gas. The property bought is the Lowe Manufacturing Company's ground, and will be improved at an early day. Cost $10,000.

At a meeting of the Runymede Club, Lansdowne, Delaware Co., Pa., on the evening of the 27th inst, various matters of organization were discussed and charter and by-laws adopted. The committee on site and building is Albert H. Postel, Herbert A. Ogden, D. D. Mullen, William P. Freeborn and Homer C. Stewart, all of the above locality.

The Phila. and Reading R. R. has begun the erection of their immense freight depot, in Camden, N. J., at foot of Linden street and Delaware River. Receiving office will be upon Delaware avenue, and platform and other offices upon Linden street. The entire structure will be of corrugated iron upon framework, and will, it is expected, be completed in June, 1891.

R. H. & B. C. Reeves, oil-cloth manufacturers, Camden, N. J., will at an early day rebuild that portion of their plant destroyed by fire on the morning of the 29th of December, 1890. The structure was the largest of their works and was entirely consumed. The size of the new one will be 60x100 feet, and will likely be three stories high.

It is possible that in the near future an addition will be made to the quarters of the Columbia Club, at Broad and Oxford streets. The proposition is at present to erect a one story addition in the rear for promenade concerts. As heretofore they have been much cramped for room on such occasions. As yet nothing tangible has been done in regard to the matter.

The Builders Exchange, at a general meeting held on the 23d inst., elected the following members to represent them at the meeting in February of the National Association: Stacy Reeves, president; John S. Stevens, Charles Gillingham, Murrell Dobbins, Samuel Hart and John Kisterbock. Alternates are Geo. Watson, Franklin Harris, D. A. Woelpper, William Irvine, John J. Weaver and Peter Gray.

S. S. Keeley, owner of the Ripka Mills, Manayunk, is about enlarging and making repairs to his present plant. He will also erect bridges connecting his mills. These will be built by Engineer Smith, of the Schuylkill Navigation Company. What is known as the Middle Mill, will be fitted in first-class order, for the weaving business, carried on by Messrs. Furbush & Co.

The Committee of Highways, City Councils, has passed upon two measures of importance to the residents of Frankford, the first recommending an appropriation of $6,500 for grading of Leiper street, from Church to Adams street. The second is the paving of Frankford avenue, from Nicetown lane to Margaretta street in centre with Belgian blocks and sides with Asphalt. This will likely be the final issue in this matter.

The Children's Homœopathic Hospital, 914 and 916 North Broad street, will probably be enlarged, so as to add some fifty or one hundred beds. The question of devising plans by which funds may be raised to make the necessary alterations to the buildings, is in the hands of the Finance Committee. The lady managers at a recent meeting, decided to improve the Out-Patient Department; also separate the isolating wards from the dispensary cases.

Clark, Thomas & Company, furniture manufacturers, Second street, above Spruce, and extending to Levant street, are considering plans for removing their immense plant to new quarters, which they will erect at Twenty-fifth street and Passyunk avenue upon ground belonging to the Girard estate, which can be leased for a long time. The buildings proposed are two, and will occupy almost an entire block, and will be fitted with improved machinery, electric work, elevators and modern conveniences. Cost will, it is thought, reach $200,000. As yet no contracts have been let.

The assessment of damages by jury to properties and tenants affected by the Walnut Street Bridge, has been made as follows: To the Produce Marble Company, tenants, $400; B. Ridgway, tenant, $400; Edward Lyster, tenant, $400; Redfield Proctor, $47,000; Thomas M. Wetherill, $13,000; Mayer Wetherill, $13,000; J. B. Wetherill, $6,000; total, $80,200. These awards of damages are on lots on Thirtieth and Thirty-first streets. Of these damages the jury find that $19,993.20 shall be paid by the city and $60,206.80 by property owners benefitted by the opening of the street, according to the plans prepared by Assistant City Solicitor Beitler.

Ex-Sheriff William H. Kern, has sold the Tinicum Fishing Club property, on the Delaware River, at the mouth of the Darby Creek, to the Quaker City Yacht Club. The design is to centralize the yachting interests in one general club, to be known as the Philadelphia Yacht Club. The recently acquired property embraces about twenty-eight acres, and is well adapted for the proposed purpose. It is about ten miles distant from Broad and Market streets, and can be reached in twenty or twenty-five minutes. The water is deep enough to afford harbor for large crafts, and the buildings already erected are suitable for club purposes. It is the intention, however, to erect a number of new buildings, and to improve and refurnish those now on the grounds. The ground will also contain cricket and tennis games. The officers of the Quaker City Yacht Club are: Commodore Charles D. Middleton; Vice-Commodore, Brereton Pratt; Rear Commodore, Robert K. Neff, Jr.; Secretary, Addison F. Bancroft; Treasurer, Charles W. Lyon.

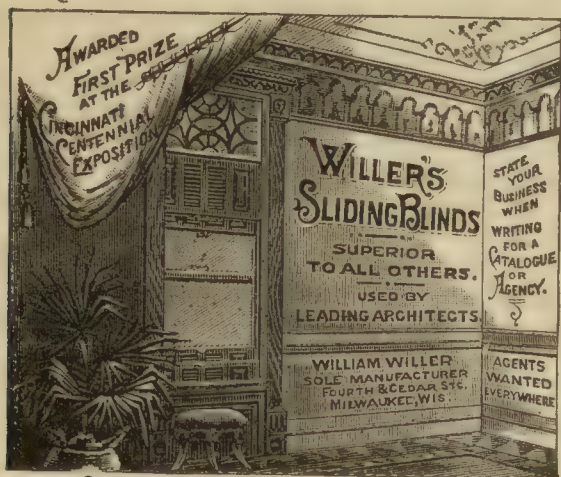

GALLAGHER'S BUYERS —OF— Building Material, Machinery, Etc.

TO SELL Building Material and the many specialties that now enter into construction work, you must go to those who require it. An advertisement inserted in the columns of a journal that reaches weekly many thousands who must buy in order to build, will certainly influence directly and indirectly more trade to your shop than any other. The out-of-town builder of houses, like his city brother, is not apt to patronize a country cross-road store if he can buy from large dealers located at commercial centres.

THE PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE

Is recognized as the best advertising medium for reaching buyers of building material, machinery, boilers, etc., in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Washington, D. C., as it is placed yearly in the hands of over 150,000 persons in the above sections and elsewhere, who are reported in its columns as going to build, independent of its subscription list.

No time will be lost in beginning work on the Reading Terminal, after the signing of the contract between the railroad and the city. Considerable work has already been done in the way of demolishing structures on the proposed route, and from Division street down to Cherry street most of the permanent roadway has already been constructed and the walls of masonry on either side of the embankment will soon be under way. Work will be commenced at Ninth street and continued southward, after which the construction of the immense station at Twelfth and Market streets, will be got under way. The carrying over the tracks of Broad street and Pennsylvania avenue, and at Huntingdon street, and at Columbia avenue and Ninth street, will take considerable time, but President McLeod has promised to have trains coming in at Twelfth and Market streets, in a year from the time the contract is signed. Already there is considerable activity among builders and owners of suburban property, who expect to be benefitted by the facilities which will be offered by the road for transportation from districts heretofore unavailable, because of the difficulty in reaching the city without great loss of time. The effect on building construction can but be beneficial; particularly in the direction of suburban homes, of which a large number will spring up by the time the road is completed.

How Labor is Paid.

A very curious table has been drawn up by the Labor Commissioner of Wisconsin, showing the rates of wages per hour paid in thirty-eight of the principal cities in the United States, in the main building trades. If the table is accurate, the variations are surprising, and what is still more surprising, they seem to follow no rule. For example, it is commonly supposed that workmen's wages are the highest where their labor is most in demand. According to this theory, the rates should be the highest, perhaps, in the cities of the New South, where buildings are being hurried up in every direction; yet in Atlanta, one of the most flourishing of the new Southern towns, mason's labor brings twenty-one and four-tenths cents per hour, the lowest rates paid in any city in the United States, while common laborers get only seven and one-half cents per hour. In regard to the latter, it will be said at once that the Atlanta laborers are negroes, whose inferior intelligence makes their work worth less than that of the whites; but in Galveston, Texas, the laborers are also negroes, yet they get twenty cents an hour, the highest rate reported anywhere. Curiously enough, in St. Louis, an old and steady-going Southern city, Masons get forty-nine cents an hour, or more than twice as much as is paid in bustling Atlanta. Roofers also, get one-half as much in Atlanta as in Sante Fe, and little more than half as much as in Brooklyn, N. Y. In Minneapolis and St. Paul, also places of very active building, masons get only thirty-one cents an hour, against nearly forty-one in New York. Carpenters get the highest pay in San Francisco, thirty-nine cents an hour, and the lowest in Lexington, Virginia, where the rate is eighteen and one-third cents an hour. Plumbers are best paid in Wilmington, Delaware, and worst in Vicksburg, Mississippi. Even between New York and Brooklyn there is an appreciable difference, laborers getting nineteen cents in Brooklyn, or very nearly as much in Galveston, and less than seventeen in New York. On the whole, the figures seem to indicate that the rate of wages is a local and temporary matter. Atlanta, within two or three years, has been busily engaged in building, and architects, and probably building workmen, have gone there to profit by the rush of business. The consequence has apparently been that the market is overstocked, and the men have to take what wages they can get. That Galveston, which is similarly situated, should pay nearly the highest wages in the country seems to indicate a growing prosperity, which has not yet been so extensively advertised as to attract migration from outside. — American Architect.

LEAKY ROOFS MADE TIGHT

Philadelphia, June 20th, 1889.
MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.
Gents—I have thoroughly tested your Roofing Paint, and find it to be everything that you represented it to be. I have used it on two houses, Nos. 1221 and 1223 Stephen Street. The roofs leaked so badly, and were examined by several practical roofers, who pronounced them past repairs. The roofs were painted with your paint between two and three years ago, and are now good and free from leak.
Yours respectfully, DANIEL M. BORING,
Conveyancer and Real Estate Agt., 2026 Ridge Avenue.

Only Thing that Stopped the Leaks.

Schauffer's Hotel, Atlantic City, N. J., May 5, 1890.
MESSRS. ROBERTS, TAYLOR & CO.
Dear Sirs—The paint we purchased from you has given great satisfaction. We used it on the leaky roof which the tin roofers here have never succeeded in making tight by soldering and painting. It has had the severest kind of test. Last Sunday a week ago we had one of the heaviest thunder storms, with hail, the streets being flooded. We are pleased to say we did not have a leak in the roof.
SCHLECHT & MEHRER.

IT NEVER BLISTERS, CRACKS, OR PEELS OFF,
Is easily applied, and as it dries quickly (in a few minutes), the washing off so frequently experienced with other paints is entirely avoided. WILL LAST TEN TO FIFTEEN YEARS.
